LEVELAND'S new city charter, adopted by in the classified service. popular vote Tuesday, July 1, is more nearly like the working system of the modern German cities, in important particulars, than the charter of any other large American city It mar's the beginning of the utilization of the German city philosophy by American cities—the ideal attained there, and sought here, being to confide the power of levying taxes and authorizing expenditures to an elected board of directors, Councilmen, and to centralize administrative authority in a Mayor and a Board of Control corresponding to the German city Magistrat, and consisting, in Cleveland as in the German cities, of the heads of administrative departments, all appointed by the Mayor. A member of the Cleveand Charter Commission wrote to a member of the Houston city government, who passed the good news along to me here, that my report on British and German cities, "City Government in Europe," written for the City of Houston, had been used as a textbook and a campaign handbook in the Cleveland charter campaign. Similarly, Mr. Daniel Keifer, chairman of the Joseph Fels fund and an active participant in the campaign for a new charter for Cincinnati, informs me Houston's book reporting European city governments is being used there as a campaign document and a source of ammunition for speakers advocating a progressive charter. Cleveland was progressive, anyhow; but if Houston can help inject progressivism into the shrunken civic arteries of staid old Cincinnati the Houston city administration that was voted out of office for sending me to Europe will be entitled to sit up and quit grieving.

The Cleveland charter provides for a Mayor to be elected by the city at large, and for Councilmen each to be elected from a ward, Each ward is to contain approximately 25,-000 inhabitants. The first city council will have TLEVELAND'S new city charter marks the beginning of the utilization of the German city philosophy by American cities-the ideal attained there, and sought here, being to confide the power of levying taxes and authorizing expenditures to an elected board of directors, or councilmen, and to centralize administrative authority in a Mayor and a board of control corresponding to the German city magistrat, and consisting, in Cleveland as in the German cities, of the heads of administrative departments, all appointed by the Mayor.

Why People Should Come to Missouri

The Post-Dispatch's $100 Prize Awarded to Him by Judges

THE winner of the $100 prize of-Mayor and directors of departments constitute fered by, the Post-Dispatch for the "Ten Best Reasons Why People Should Come to Missouri," is Isaac Fisher, a young negro school teacher of East Lake Station, Birmingham, Ala. His "Ten Reasons," reproduced in the same form in which he sent them in-with an interesting story of how he obtained the information enabling him to win the prize, will be found on this page.

> The award was made by the judges after reading hundreds of letters that had been submitted in the competition which attracted wide attention and brought responses from more than 20 states. Each letter in the competition was considered by the judges wholly on its merits and without regard to the personality, place of residence or station in life of its writer. Indeed, with the exception of the place of residence, neither the Post-Dispatch nor the judges had any information whatever on these points.

Fisher's 10 reasons, by all the tests of excellence, were adjudged the best. The Post-Dispatch did not know he was a negro until his photograph arrived in the office in response to a notification to him that he had been declared the winner of the contest. The judges will learn of his color when they \ \ \ \ read this announcement today.

The prize-winning article, together with the writer's story of how he came to make a success of what he undertakes of which his "Ten Reasons" article is an example—are highly interesting and informing. They not only contain an astonishing amount of information about Missouri, but an insight into character and the secret of attainment under difficult conditions.

STORY OF THE CONTEST.

HE Ten Best Reasons Contest was begun April 16, with the following announce-

The luncheon of the Business Men's League to representatives of the Missouri Federation of Commercial Clubs for the promotion of the movement to develop Missouri's resources was an eye-opener for St. Louis business men. Speakers from the interior of the State enlightened them on the richness and variety of our resources, on present production and the possibilities of successful work in devel-

William Hirth of Clinton, president of the State Federation and leader of the movement. made an eloquent comparison of Missouri's productive resources as compared with those of other states. He touched on the variety of the State's resources and of the possibility of increasing the State's population and productive powers by co-operation between the cities and counties for the purpose,

President Hill of the State University outlined the activities of the agricultural college in supplying information and aid to the farmers by which they are enabled to increase production and save loss and cost.

S. M. Jordan gave an interesting account of his experience as the farm adviser of Pettus County and pointed out the possibilities of better co-operation between city business men and the farmers for the marketing of crops.

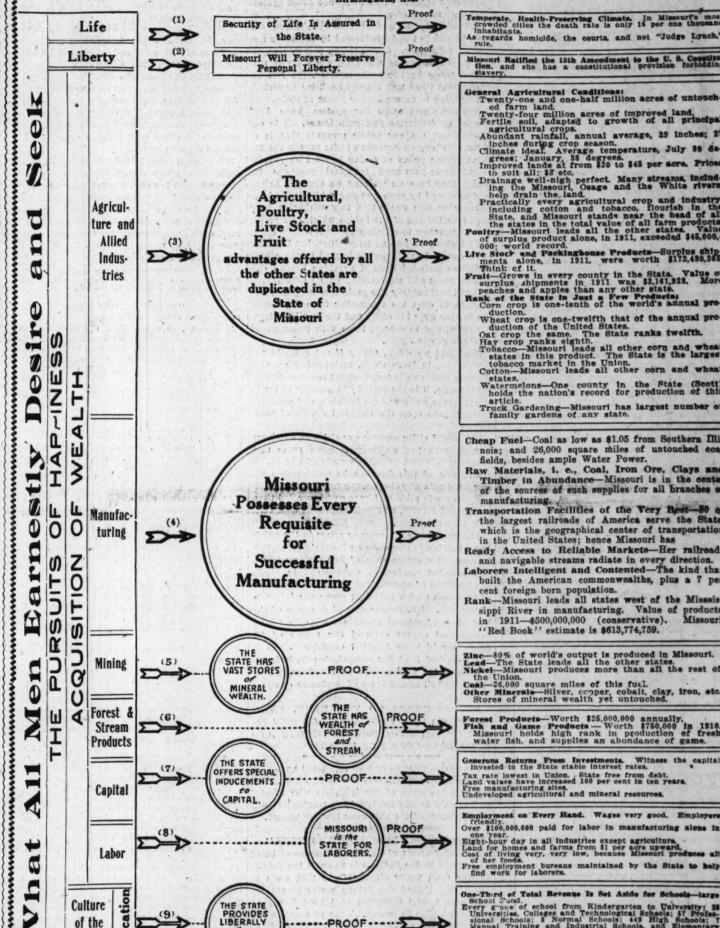

The burden of all the speeches was the great opportunities for the development of the splendid resources of the State by co-operative effort to increase production, stimulate immigration, promote industry and commerce and advertise Missouri's advantages. City and country should work together; their interests are common. The best territory for St. Louis is Missouri and the natural market for Missouri is St. Louis. The stimulation of industrial and agricultural enterprise and the consequent increase of wealth production, mean greater prosperity for both. The first thing necessary to do is to stimulate the interest of the people of the State in the movement and awaken their minds to its value and importance. In order to arouse interest and direct the attention of the Missouri people to the re-sources of the State, the Post Dispatch offers a prize of $100 for the best 10 reasons why people should come to Missouri. The of-fer should bring out information of the State's resources and supply the Publicity patch's $100 prize and the judges say, in their letter of award, that it was not only on the cogency and pitht ness with which the merits of Missouri were set forth that the award was made, but also because of the cleverness and neatness of their arrangement.

Foss of Massachusetts, who left the Republican party on account of the fariff, opposes the Underwood bill as stoutly as while he was displeased with those responsible for the former, he did not want New England's prerogative in tariff framing disturbed.

Of the total manufactures of the country, New England produces but one-eighth. The three States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have a manufacturing output almost three times as great as New England and constituting entire country.

Missouri, which is the seventh State in population, is only the tenth State in manufacture. Of its industrial output only 2.9 per cent is produced in cities from 10,000 to 25,000 in population, to appoint a commisson of five distinguished whereas the percentage for such cities in the disinterested engineers, empowered to study country at large is 9.4 per cent. A tariff not the question of approaches and report in favor framed expressly to give advantage to the large of that one which will best serve the interests combines of the East ought to do a great deal of the city. "Control" of the Recall.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The recall, as it has been exercised and as it is proposed by most of its advocates now, lacks an important essential, and that is the essential of intelligent and proper control. All that is recessary to start the ball is a will to hamper, hwart or defeat, whether there is good cause or not. Why should we not in this as in all other branches or functions of our government stick to the idea of representation? Why such an important function be left loosely in the hands of the people, so that anyone, whether he is safe sane, or honest, trustworthy and reliable or not, is at liberty to pick up this powerful instrument and set it to work, instead of providing an orderly chosen body to handle it intelligently, carefully and cautiously, as all important instru-ments should be handled?

At the general city election there should be provision for choosing a body of men of the type of the members of our present Board of Free-holders. Whenever the questions of recall came up, it should be necessary for those desiring the recall to present a formal statement of the charges supporting their petition, subscribed by a certain per cent of the voters. This petition hould be filed with the board, sitting as a court of inquiry, with power to subpens witnesses, et If this board, after a thorough investigation, found that the charges were just a recall election would be in order, otherwise the petition would be dismissed. having passengers properly looked after and the rear end protected? No, they do not. Last Fourth of July I happened to be traveling on a train of 12 cars. Local travel heavy (the train was a local) and the flagman's assistance was needed up ahead in loading and unloading passengers. This left the rear end to ake care of itself. Between the day coaches and or a light engine or something, is not this manner of handling trains inviting disaster? From observation I find, however, that the conditions

NO CHANGE IN ADMINISTRATION POLICY TOWARD MEXICO.

Ambassador Wilson's advocacy of Huerta's Government impresses Senators; but has no effect upon the President---Editorial opinion still strongly against intervention or any steps that would lead to war.

TO other topic has occupied newspapers so much during the past week as the Mexican situation. Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, on his arrival in New York, talked quite freely, advocating recognition of Huerta and admitting that he had sent a dispatch to Consuls in Mexico foreshadowing official recognition of the de facto government. He submitted a lengthy written statement to the President and after long conferences with Secretary of State Bryan was called before the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, Notwithstanding the committee met in secret session what transpired became public, with the comment that Senators were favorably impressed by the Ambassador's advocacy of recog-

A "Crisis" Exploded .

New York World: If there had been any neglience, indecision or weakness on the part of the administration in its treatment of the Mexican question, there might be some excuse for the resolution introduced in the House of Representatives providing for a congressional inquiry. As it is, the move must be regarded as only one more jingo enterprise calculated to complicate matters and embarass those who have the problem in hand, ontact with a real President at Washington it exploded. It looked for a time like fate itself, ut after Ambassador Wilson and President Wilson had been in conference 50 minutes it was set aside. Besides disposing of the crisis, some other things were put away forever. Among these were the services of Henry Lane Wilson as Ambassador and certain fantastic policies of his which seem to have been Huerta's policies also. In the language of one who spoke for the President after the conference: "We are no nearer intervention Mexico than we were several months ago." And there is to be no recognition of Huerta. Good-By, Mr. H. L. Wilson.

Louisville Courier Journal: On the whole the administration has handled the Mexican situation exceedingly well. From the beginning it has procoeded with intelligence and judgment. Americans should be on their guard against it What the Ambassador Forgot.

Pittsburg Dispatch: Mr. Wilson displays his partisanship by attacking the constitutionalists and the Madero family as maintaining "a paid bureau in Washington to poison the public mind." It is unnecessary to discuss the question whether the Huerta Government has maintained any paid bureau; but it might occur to an official representative of a constitutional republic that a more relevant fact is that Madero was the one con stitutionally elected President of Mexico within this generation.

The Ambassador's Experience.

New Orleans Picayune: Although Ambassado Wilson has talked rather too much for a diplomat, from the fect that he was present in the City of Mexico during the whole period of rapid political changes which followed the downfall of the old dictator, Porfirio Diaz, running through the Madero regime, the Diaz rebellion in the City of Mexico and the inauguration of the Huerta Government, he is undoubtedly in a much better position to enlighten the authorities at Washingon on the actual condition of affairs in our sister republic than anyone else.

The Blunder of Madero's Murder. Chicago Inter Ocean: The plain truth is that there is now no government in Mexico which has any real title save that of the sword. There was the blunder, as well as the crime, of the murder of Madero. It broke the chain of legal succession and has made it so far impossible to reweld it. Nothing of government exists in Mexico which can claim even the form of constitutional title. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that President Wilson is reported to be seriously considering the recognition of both the Huerta and Carranza parties as "de facto" governments—within rifle range—and letting them both get all the arms they want. This would be just letting the Mexican factions fight it out, with the understanding that when the fight was over the victors should formally regularize their po-

There is probably no living man who so owers above his fellows as an opponent of strife and an exponent of the inexhaustible possibilities of logic in the settlement of disputes.

H. L. Wilson's Qualifications.

Indianapolis Star: Henry Lane Wilson is a man of independent means, of unusual talents, of superior education and extensive travel, of 16 years' experience in diplomatic service both in Europe and on this hemisphere. Either President Wilson or Secretary Bryan would grievously err to pick Ambassador Wilson up for a weakling, a marplot or an idiot. He knows, life, he knows

A Partial Recognition.

New York Post: President Wilson has so far "recognized" the Huerta Government in Mexico as to demand of it, and secure, prompt action in the matter of the American official shot in Juraez, and of others of our citizens unlawfully held in confinement. For the rest, the administration's policy remains undefined. Apparently, the President is trusting to time, financial pressure and the futility of the present fighting in Mexico, to help bring about an adjustment. Reports that Huerta is prepared to step aside at once are doubtless premature, but the step is one plainly

McAdoo's Defense

McADOO asserting that a "campaign waged with every indication of concerted action on the part of influential New York City banks to cause apprehension and uneasiness about" Government 2-per-cent bonds which were depressed below par, notified the country that he had instructed bank examiners not to charge those bonds at the market rate where held by banks as security for circulation, but to accept them w

Mr. McAdoo's Mistake.

New York World: If we have to take our choice between a Secretary of the Treasury whose sympathy with the people leads him to do an injustice to the bankers and a Secretary of the Treasury whose sympathy with the bankers leads him to do an injustice to the people, we centainly prefer the former alternative. But we do not believe that either is necessary.

Mr. McAdoo's charge that the great bankers of New York were deliberately selling Govern-ment 2 per cent bonds to depress the price and discredit the Administration currency measure does not seem to be borne out by the facts, Conditions Are Good.

Memphis Commercial-Appeal: The fundamental onditions are good in this country, and Mr. Mc-Adoo well says that there is not going to be any financial trouble, which means that if necessary he will extend the power of the Government to the imit to prevent it.

McAdoo as a Marplot.

Pittsburg Gazette-Times: Not the least of the Secretary's offending, from the banking viewpoint, is his allegation that banks are deliberately restricting commercial credits, which may be taken as a suggestion that the department will wink at expansion and recklessness here and there -anything to make it appear that business is better than conditions warrant. This is much of a piece with his assurance that 2 per cents will e marked at par on bank books, although they fetch but 95 or thereabouts on sale, precisely the sort of bookkeeping for whom bank officials are rebuked when other securities are in question Thus has Secretary McAdoo in one day raised doubts as to the accuracy of statements of fact made in a formal public utterance and at the same time introduced elements of instability into the banking standards which he advocates as the head of the great financial department of the Government. And incidentally he has proved a marplot to administration plans.

Called the Bankers' Hand.

Houston Post: Secretary of the Treasury Mc-Adoo has called the hand of influential New York banks, whom he charges with responsibility for a campaign "waged with every indication of concerted action to cause apprehension and uneasiness about Government 2 per cent bonds in order to help them in their efforts to defeat the cur rency bill." Representative R. L. Henry of Texas is trying to defeat currency legislation at the present session of Congress. Can it be possible that so astute a statesman is allowing himself to be used to rake chestnuts out of the fire for the banks engaged in this movement?

nother Conspiracy Finder. New York Globe: Secretary McAdoo has selzed the Bryan prerogative. He breathlessly announ ces to the country that the fall in price of the 2 per cents is the result of a bank plot-a New York Wall street plot. Infamous schemers who have but in the summer and fall hammering the value out of the stocks owned by them and their friends are now devoting themselves to depressing the value of Government bonds which they own in large quantities.

British consols, French rentes, and German imperials are all down. It is not strange that United States bonds are also affected by the universal rise in interest rates. Nor is it strange that a special drop occurred when it was not made clear in the currency bill that the 2 per cents, if no longer a basis for circulation, were to be refunded dollar for dollar into bonds bearing a higher interest rate.

Shows Lack of Breadth.

Chicago Tribune: For Secretary McAdoo to for the purpose of opposing the currency measure is to exhibit an inadequate conception of banking and investment, or broad market conditions, and a lack of breadth to deal with the questions involved. He reflects not only on his own capacity for leadership but also on the entire administration's ability to command the confidence of the country for the proposed banking and currency

An Absurd Attack.

Indianapolis News: As the banks own practically all these bonds they can be "thrown on market" only by the banks themselves. "If," says the Secretary, "the price is market Cown, it is because the banks themselves are putting pressure on the market and depressing the value of their securities." The absurdity of this attack is further shown by the fact that of the total is further shown by the fact that of the total issue of 2 per cents, amounting to $730,832,100,000 are used to secure deposits. And this small amount thus released can be used as security for note issues. Nor is the depreciation to be charged off by the Treasury. On the contrary, the banks are to be permitted to put in these bonds, both as security for deposits and notes, at par, at least "until some material change in conditions should compel the adoption of an-

The gossips' tongues have been wagging ever since, and some of the Queen's friends have become bold enough to say: "It isn't a question of: If the Queen will marry Soveral after her son's marriage has taken place. It is: Isn't she married secretly to him already?"

It is certainly extraordinary that the ubiqui-tious Marquis de Soveral should figure in such an exclusive family group, and Queen Amelie's action in sending the photograph broadcast among her friends is bound to create speculation as to the meaning of it all.

Soveral was an intimate friend of Queen Amelie's husband, but the high aristocracy of Portugal have never been able to discover why he was ever given such an important diplomatic post as the one in London. His title belongs to the newest of the monarchy, and, although he is rich, his father having been a shrewd busines man, he has never made financial sacrifices for the exiled Portuguese monarchs. He was able to foresee the revolution at Lisbon in time to get most of his property there converted in cash and transported to England. PRINCE ARTHUR OF CONNAUGHT

pany the Union of Arthur of Connaught and Duchess of Fife.

LONDON, Aug. 2 .- An extraordinary merger of titles will accompany the marriage of the young Duchess of Fife to her cousin, Prince Arthur of

The bride-elect is hereditary Duchess, in itself very unusual, as titles in England descend to the eldest male heir of the family, and women are barred except in a few specially-privileged cases The bridegroom-elect will some day be the Duke of Connaught and it is by that title, of course that the Duchess of Fife will be known after her marriage. The Fife title will be in abeyance un-til the birth of a daughter or a second son, the first son, of course, taking the Connaught title. There is a feeling that the royal 'amily, in arranging this match, has contributed another chapter to its physical and mental decline, because of the close degree of relationship. Members of the family are gradually becoming weaklings because of the failure to inject new blood into their veins. The Duchess of Fife is a daughter of King George's sister. Prince Arthur of Connaught is a son of King George's uncle. The couple, therefore, are related to each other as uncle and niece, a degree removed. There is no other royal couple in Europe so closely allied by

The young Duchess, who is 22, is scarcely known to the nation. Her mother has reared her New York, and is looking forward eagerly to his revery puritanically and, on her few appearances, she has presented a very downy aspect to the specific of her utter lack of style and the hand-me-down cut of her clothes. Her mother believes it is Shakespearan play, "that the American public seems to attend the theater almost wholly for entertainment and does not attach any educational value to incumbent upon members of the royal family to t set an example of economy and thrift for the nation and she practices what she preaches with t great intensity. The Duchess has a rather pretty face and, perhaps, when she gets away from mamma, she may perk up considerably.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 2.-Now that the European powers have determined to select a ruler for Albania, one of the Danish Princes is thought to have the best chance.

When a provisional government was set up in Albania, it proclaimed the French Duke of Montpensier as King, and in company with Prince Albert Ghika, who has a sort of hereditary claim on that throne, the Duke (a brother of the Or-leans pretender to the French throne) left Paris n March to occupy his kingdom, but the powers do not seem to be impressed with his right to

A Danish Prince's prospect is bright because Emperor William has declared a preference for a Swedish or a Danish Prince for the position, notwithstanding that the job is wanted by two of his own sons, Eitel Frederick and Joachim, and more than a dozen other German Princes, including Duke Robert of Wuertemberg, Prince Max of Schaumberg-Lippe, one of the Windisch-Graetz Princes and a Prince of Donnersmarck.

Numerous thrones have been adorned by mem the Danish royal family. It has furnished a King to Greece and one to Norway, a Queen to England and a Czarina to Russia as its most striking contributions. Now Prince Gustavus, the king's youngest brother, and Princes Aage and Axel have bared their heads for the new crown.

AMERICANS GO TO SEE THE PLAYER, NOT PLAY, HE SAYS

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—"In America the player's the thing; not the play," remarked Rudolph Schildkrant, Germany's foremost character actor, who has just returned from a stay of 18 months in New York. "I rarely heard an American say he was going to se Julius Caesar' or 'Romeo and Juliet.' He almost always said he was going to see Faversham, or Southrn or Marlowe."

But Schildkrant admitted to the Post-Dispatch cor respondent that the actors and actresses he saw over there are good enough to deserve that distinction. He especially admires the work of Otis Skinner, of Da-vid Warfield in "The Music Master" and in "Peter Grimm." He compares Warfield to the greatest of the Viennese actors, Alexander Girardi.

Schildkrant is delighted with his experiences in urn there early next year, when he will appear for

FILM SHOW ADVENTURESS GETS A REALISTIC BEATING

PARIS, Aug. 2.-Mlle. Mistinguett is in a loca ospital for a two weeks' stay, a victim of realistic acting. Mile. Mistinguett recently joined i moving picture company. The last role assigned to her was that of a woman adventurer who en tices a sweetheart from a poor and good girl. The poor girl attacks the adventurer and beats her on the head with a hammer carefully padded with wool. The act went beautifully until time for Mile. Mistinguett to arise, then it was discovered that the poor but good girl actress had got hold of the wrong hammer and had beaten Mile.

FISHER TELLS HOW HE GATHERED DATA FOR COMPOSITION

He Read Many Books on Missouri Before He Began Preparation of His Chart.

By Isaac Fisher,

East Lake Station, Birmingham, Ala There is a picture and a question have followed me from early when I first became a stunt of the Scriptures. That picture is the State's Mining Industries.) that of the weak-willed Pilate, examining in his judgment hall the humble but unafraid Jesus, and trying to find some means by which he might release his orlsoner, and yet do nothing to shorten his own tenure of office as Governor

The question is the one which burst, most involuntarily, from the lips of the Governor, when Jesus said: "To this end was I born, and for this cause same I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth."

At the word "truth," Pilate, the poliician, was changed on the instant to Pilate the Judge, true to the spirit of the judicial office, one of whose functions is to get "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," and he asked his prisoner the direct question:

To me, as a result of having read that story, the question of questions for all persons in approaching a given inquiry has continually seemed to be Judge Pl-late's query to Jesus; indeed, on some special stationery which I often use when I am writing to persons for in-Ten Best Reasons Why Persons Should was done. Come to Missouri," I asked myself, first: What is the truth about Missouri?"

Finding Truth His Specialty. Every person possesses or thinks he has some special trait of which he is proud, however modestly he may try to conceal his pride, in the fact. I fear I am no exception to this rule. My special "weakness" is a belief that I can get the truth about any subject which comes before me for examination, if the truth exists in written or winted form truth exists in written or printed form, and is accessible to the public. I knew the truth could be had about Missouri, and I set out to get it, and the following documents, by their agreement on cer-tain things, convinced me that I had the

The Judges' Letter of Award

We, the following committee, who were selected to decide on the essays giving the Ten Best Reasons Why People Should Come to Missourt, beg leave to make the following report: We have decided that to Isaac Fisher, East Lake Station, Birmingham, Ala., should go the first prize. To Conrad J. Burghardt, 1313 Market street, St. Louis, Mo., second prize, and to T. S. Burnett, 524 Clark avenue, Webster Groves, Mo., the third We understand that there is only one money prize to be awarded, and it was with some difficulty that we arrived at a decision on number one. There is so much substance and real worth in the essay prepared by Mr. Burghardt, and he having had the experience, knows whereof he speaks, whereas the other essay is prepared largely from statistics, but ranged that we were finally com-pelled to decide in favor of Mr. Fish-The essay by Mr. Burnett is really one of great worth and very nicely prepared, and covers the topic in such excellent manner that we ought it was deserving of mention. There are really a great many very worthy reasons given, and your committee could scarcely resist the temptation to pick out from the many good essays the ten very vital reasons, which we considered would have made the ten best ones, but that was outside of our jurisdiction, and we did not do it.

We assure you that we have done the best that we could under the circumstances, and only regret that there were not many prizes to be awarded that we might have given some consideration to at least ten of the very meritorious essays sub-

(No hands; over there only one-third of more important publication issues from the Councilmen are elected each year, Missouri State department than this thus insuring at all times that there book. It is a mine of industrial information of the control of the inted with the city's busines and pledged to continuance of its con structive policies. This is, in my judgment, the weakest point in an otherwise excellent city, charter. The two-year term does not give a city executive time to get fairly started upon constructive efforts before he is called upon to fight for his official life in order to finish what he has begun. There is always a lively chance he will be beaten, and a new man enter office, hostile to the de parting Mayor's policies, eager to aban lon them and feature something new with a consequent frittering away of time, money and energy—characteristic above everything else of city govern ment in the United States.

The first section of the charter, de laring the city's title, boundaries, purposes and powers, is a model. It makes Cleveland free to create or acquire, own and operate, for the community's acount, any and all public utilities now privately owned, or which may be needed to serve the general welfare. As it in anticipation of a day when the city will own and operate all its utilities it is provided that the Council shall regulate fare on street railways, but the Board of Control, consisting of the Mayor and his directors of departments. shall fix the rates to be charged for water, light, heat and other commodities to be served to citizens by the city.

The Cleveland charter is a model in at least one respect, namely, its delightfully clear, simple, direct English style. It contains no legal or other verbal involutions usually found in city charters-conspicuously so in the pres ent St. Louis city charter. Any citizen. able to read, can understand every word of it, nor need he be buzzled about its exact meaning in any line or paragraph Possibly the fact that Mr. Mayo Fesler a former secretary of the St. Louis City League, was secretary of the Cleve land Charter Commission, accounts for this quality of the charter. All told. it comprises just 60 pages of large type -in contrast with the 133 pages of St. Louis city charter. Business Openings for

Its rapid action is wonderful; it contains nothing that can possibly harm skin irritations, rashes, hives, prickly heat, ch-fing, so-called "Summer" ec-zema. Its effect is at once soothing and cooling. Itching, burning and smarting stop. Restful sleep is made possible.

The splendid work of healing, which Poslam accomplishes, renders it invaluable for all eruptional troubles which break out on body, ears, arms and scalp of infants during the teething period. You can use no safer or more soothing soap for baby's tender skin than Poslam Soap, which, being medicated with Poslam, exerts the most beneficial antisep tic and healing influences.

Here Is the Solution of Your Washing Problem

The Monday washing has always been a great trial in every home-and even where a laundress is hired, it has always involved the hardest kind of work and considerable expense. Many styles of Washing Machines have been invented to lighten the burden—but here is the first practical solution within the means of the average home

Note the Picture

It shows our new STANDARD Motor Washing Machine exactly as it is—a high-grade Motor Washer—thoroughly well constructed in every detail—and made to give years of service and thorough satisfaction in every way—it's the Washing Machine you need in your home—the one you cannot get along home—the one you cannot get along

Connect It With the Faucetthe Water Runs the Machine

This STANDARD Motor Washing Machine This STANDARD Motor washing Machine has a single-cylinder Motor, as shown in the illustration—in order to operate it all you have to do is connect one of the hose to the faucet at your sink and the pressure of the to carry the water back into the sink so it runs off.

Not a Bit of Work to Do

Having put your clo.hes in the Machine, and connected the Motor with the faucet-there is absolutely no work for you to do—the Washing Machine does all the rest and does it so easily, quickly and thoroughly that you will wonder how in the world you ever got along without it for so long a time.

Cannot Get Out of Order

The motor is a simple one-cylinder design—contains very few parts and cannot get out of order—the construction of the washer throughout is high class in every particular—as thoroughly well made as any to be seen elsewhere at higher prices. We secured this special lot at an unusual reduction and we are giving you the benefit of this saving.

A High-Grade Wringer Is With Each Machine

To make this STANDARD Motor Washing Machine absolutely complete—we are including a first-class Wringer with every one sold this week—the wringer is of standard design, with heavy rubber rollers and the usual adjustments for heavy and light fabries.

The Price Is $14.25

The Grim Business of Keeping Cool

Surgeon-General Blue envelops the country in another of his celebrated blue funks-He regrets to report that the new potato is bad for us-The desperate choice between death by heat stroke and blue underwear.

By CLARK MCADAMS.

CCIENTIST BLUE, come blow your horn. We need expert instruction, And in our present lot forlorn Will hearken to deduction. Are sliced cucumbers, as they say, Taboo? There is defiance What is the good word, anyway, In your especial science?

Is raw ice water, as we hear, Disastrous and benumbing, Or does it at this time of year Refresh one's inner plumbing? We hear it both ways, pro and con, And perspiration trickles From hot heads when we get upon The chemistry of pickles.

Scientist Blue, come blow your horn, And tell us all about it. We're much too full of new sweet corn And canteloupes to doubt it. Are these, too, bad? We thought as much Expecting to be chidden; It certainly does beat the Dutch How good things are forbidden.

CURGEON-GENERAL BLUE has enveloped the country in another of his celebrated blue funks. We are forbidden to eat potatoes in hot weather. Think of giving up new potatoes? New potatoes, which need but a touch of butter to melt in one's mouth! New potatoes, with the sweet flavor of the fragrant earth! They ire taboo. They contain starch. They are a good thing to throw in the wash. Mash fine, and put n-the wash boiler with ten gallons of pure waer. All starchy goods, says the Surgeon-General re bad for us in hot weather. We should eat only light, airy vegetables like watermelons and toma-Potatoes in hot weather are a good deal like biebloride of mercury. The tablets are a lit-tle larger—that is about all. You eat a potato in hot weather, and then wait for the end. The newspapers announce that you have eaten a potato. Friends tender their sympathy. Doctors begin lesuing hourly bulletins. Suggestions begin to pour in by mail. Calm, but doomed, you await your finish. Your enemies come in, and all is forgiven. Surrounded by your family, you eventnally die. But you smile in death, for the potato

The Surgeon-General says we must eat vegetables. It is to laugh. In a hot, dry summer, when we suffer with heat, there are no vegetables. This mmer, for instance, going to market, one finds crowd before the vegetable stall. There is a man in front on an elevation. small, red object in one hand.

"A tomato!" he cries. "A real tomato! How nuch am I bid?" "Five cents," says someone in the crowd.

There is a howl of derision from the man on the "Five cents!" he shrieks. "Did you understand me to say that I was selling an option on it?"

There is a scream of laughter. "Pass me a prune. There is a man out here who has a nickel to spend," says the auctioneer to the man who keeps the stall. It is very funny. A grim humor, 'tis true, but the more amusing for being real.

NOTHER thing we should do to keep cool: We should wear white clothes. The Surgeon-General insists upon this. It has been accepted everywhere. He does not, howeversay how we are going to wear white clothes in this part of the country, where we have soft coal soot. There used to be a clothes drummer who came to St. Louis who could do it. He had 24 white suits. When he got to the Planters Hotel he got these out, had them pressed, and hung them around his room in paper bags. Rising in the morning, he put one of them on. Then he went down to have his morning's morning. Having had that, he went back to his room and put on a clean suit for breakfast. After breakfast he put on a clean suit in which to smoke his cigar in the hotel rotunda. Then he put on six white suits, called a taxicab, and started out to see six customers before lunch. Between customers he pulled his outside suit off and thrust it under the seat. Returning to the hotel, he went up and put on a clean suit for lunch. By this time the hotel laundry was on his heels, and he had white suits to last him until he turned in about 1 a. m.

William F. Woerner, St. Louis Member, Consults With City Officials on Plans.

ENFORCE ACTION

City Assembly Wabash-Delmar Ordinance Is Found Fatally Defective.

The Missouri Public Service Commis sion, according to announcement by William F. Woerner yesterday, is ready to begin an investigation of the grade crossing problem in St. Louis.

The law creating the commission, en acted by the last Legislature, transferred from the city of St. Louis to grade crossings in the city limits. Woerner, who was appointed membe of the commission by Gov. Major especially to see that the interests of St. Louis were properly taken care of, has onferred with Mayor Kiel, Street Commissioner Talbert and President Kinsey of the Board of Public Improvements relative to the work of abolish ing the grade crossings.

The last official act of Mayor Kreismann was to sign several grade crossing bills that had been passed by the Municipal Assembly, after the Board of Public Improvements and the railroads affected had agreed on the terms and onditions of the grade separation

Tower Grove Crossing to Go.
The city is about to let the contract for the abolition of the Tower Grove rade crossing of the Missouri Pacific and Frisco railroads, but through an oversight in the legislation for the ab-olition of the Delmar avenue grade crossing of the Wabash, the plans have It is probable that the State Public dervice Commission will have to investigate the Delmar crossing and orwork affecting the channel of the River des Peres should be done by the city. Former President Reber of the Board f Public Improvements prepared plans and estimates for the abolition of all the rade crossings in the city. The State commission probably will ask for the se of these plans in its investigation of the question.

The method of abolishing the grade rossings, by the Public Service Commision, will be to have a hearing on each rossing. The commission has the ower, if it finds from the facts that he crossing should be abolished, to order it done and apportion the exense between the railroads and the

While the commission has not declared ts policy with respect to consequential damages, it probably will adhere to the policy already established of the city assuming these damages. Woerner says the commission will be able to deal with the grade crossing problem much more expeditiously than the Municipal Assembly has done. Although the grade crossing question has been before the Assembly for many years, the only crossing abolished was that at Compton avenue, which the Terminal Railroad Association abolished of its own initiative.

little wrangling or red tape but the entire problem will be disposed of in a pusiness like manner, if the plans nov eing formulated are carried out. Woerner was formerly associate City counselor and is familiar with all legisation pertaining to St. Louis public serv

Kansas Girls Are Being Taught That Groaning Tables on Sabbath Are Unfair.

BAD FOR STOMACHS, TOO

Domestic Science Heresy Against Holiday Spread Gaining a Strong Foothold.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 2.-The Kansas man's habit of making Sunday a day of rest is about to cost him his big Sunday dinner, for mother is hearing from all sides that she, too, should rest as much as possible on that day. She is told that the custom and physical requirement that make it profitable for man to rest also should apply to her and to the stomachs of the entire fam-

This doctrine is being spread by domestic science teachers, who urge that the big Sunday dinners be banished along with the hard biscuit and under-

The campaign was started a year ago at the University of Kansas, and has gained the support of every high school couses. The campaign is based on two

Why not give the housewife a little

Why not rest the inner man also? A fine, hot chicken dinner with all the "trimmin's" is something to conjure with on Sunday. The man of the home has crawled out of bed late. loafed around all morning reading the papers, talking with neighbors and resting. Maybe he went to church. But all that time when he was in church or loafing about the house someon was getting that meal ready.

It is Mother's Busy Day. Mother had started planning the meal about Friday and had seen to all the purchases, so there could be no disap-While the family was eating breakfast mother started the dinner by getting the foods prepared for cooking and she worked as fast as she could up to about seven minutes of church time and then she hustled into her best dress and away to church.

When she gets back from church she hurries into the hot, stuffy kitchen and works for an hour or two getting the meal actually ready to eat. On Sunday mother works as hard, or harder, than on any other day of the week, except wash day. After eating that fine meal, an hour or two after the regular nooday meal time, Mr. Man goes over to the couch or into the hammock and takes a nap of about an hour, or maybe reads the Sunday papers or the magazines. Along about the middle of the afternoon mother and the girls come in from washing the dishes and pots and pans necessary in the preparation of the big Sunday

The Stomach's Side.

Then there is the hygienic aspect. With a big Sunday dinner nearly every one overloads the stomach. The meal is eaten from one to two hours after the regular meal time. The stomach is overworked for several hours and then there is seldom a Sunday evening lunch and Monday morning the stomach is just a little out of "kelter," and everyone wonders why. In the domestic science text books, written by the Agricultural College, State University and State Normal School instructors appears the following

"Simpler meals for Sunday would even up matters. They would give the entire family, also the servants, a rest, and they would not be 'bad to take,' either. Most people eat too much. It would be a good scheme to slow down on Sunday and make it easier for everybody, especially the cook.

Suggestions for Sunday Meal. "Many kinds of meat, veal loaf, boiled ham, pressed chicken and some roasts are as good, sometimes better, when cold than hot. They could be prepared Saturday and be ready to serve Sunday Make a little salad to go with the meat. Don't use vegetables that take a long time to prepare for the Sunday dinner.
Use them some other day. Don't take the trouble to make a pie or pudding or a cake Sunday morning. There are ndreds of fine desserts that are better cold and can be prepared Saturday.

"Serve the Sunday meal simply. Don't use any extra dishes. You may not feel so stylish, but it will be a real day of rest not only for you, but for your stomach as well, and everyone will have plenty to eat, no one will be tired out and Sunday will be a real day of rest for everyone about the house."

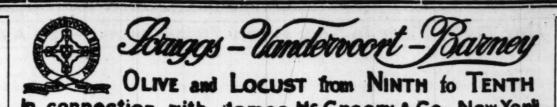

According to records of attendance, more than 4000 girls had this Sunday dinner idea instilled in domestic science classes last year. An equal, probably larger number, will take the work next winter and get the same sort of teaching. At this rate it should not be long antil the big Sunday dinner is a thing of the past in Kansas.

YORK, Aug. 2.- Daniel H.

By Jock Bellairs.

Tel Grether, who writes interestingly of rod and gun affairs, is suppressi one on himself, his son, Robert, and Joe Hoerman of North St. Louis, that ought to be given to the boys. Tel says the story is too long for his readers. But here is a method of condensation, an here it goes:

As I get it, Hoerman formerly lived on Big River. He learned that Grether had an auto that could climb anything and he suggested going out. He offere to act as guide on the occasion. I am old he did fairly well until he lost his earings. Then he found them. After hat the troubles began. They say the first was auto trouble. Then came a tretch which led to a creek and the party had to become bridge builders.

Crossing that ditch, the way was fair antil another creek was reached and another bit of bridge building had to be attempted. It ended disastrously when the engine went dead. They had to give up for the day at 11 p. m. The party built a bonfire in the bed of the creek. Rob went to sleep in the auto, Tel nestled on the fender and Joe scraped nest in the creek. It rained and thundered that night. Then Joe learned pared. He had to stand the gaff. But was all right. His fire did not die it spread when the rain ceased.

The party awoke to find that the fire nad spread to a brush pile and a big cottonwood tree. They managed to push sat and waited for help. It came when came into sight. He had a few drinks and then rented them his mule team which pulled the auto party to Herman Young's place at Byrne's Mill. They in duced another farmer to join them with another pair of mules, and the four mules, all abreast, like horses in a Roman charlot, hauled the auto party, in creased by the two natives, back to St

On the hike back the ride lasted from 9 a. m. one day to 5 a. m. the next. Then one of the farmers lost a mule. Joe Hoerman had to board the natives until Gretner got his auto fixed. After which he has nerve enough to say they went back to Dutch Creek on the Big River and caught lots of fish. They also found the farmer's mule had re-

Tel may well of the fish caught. But I know of several friends who traveled to Big River only last Sabbath. The same was poor. Others say there are ew bass in Big River right now.

Up on Salt River near Smithy Mills, here his father, Thomas Jefferson Gillaspy, ran a mill over half a century ficient in the art of fishing, Assistant Chief of Police C. G. Gillaspy spent five days last week. With him was Rockford Judy, Chadwick Davis, John Davis, George Rosell, John Moss and Col. The old site is in Monroe County. Great as it was in the past, Col. Gillaspy and his party found it great at the present and they caught all kinds of fish and in satisfying num

But the sentimental side of the trip is what Col. Gillaspy dwells on. The old mill has crumbled away until naught but the old mud shell remains. He found the old mill burr stone in the field of a man who acquired it by purchase. and Col. Gillaspy obtained the old stone. It will be placed at the base of a marble shaft erected to the memory of his father in Columbia. Col. Gillaspy began fishing 53 years ago at his father's

He was away for a two weeks' trip. His fishing near Browning, Sullivan County, had resulted in ordinary atches, so he confided to others that he wished to be the hero of a big catch. one that might be photographed and the photo sent to the Post-Dispatch. His friends told him nothing was easier, so T. A. Dodge, who is the Postmaster and editor of the Standard at Milan, Mo., guided Flory, J. W. Birmingham, Dr. Brumbaugh, Dr. Mackey and Mark Mc Allister to a "well stocked private lake." There they fished for a day. Five of them had oodles of fish. Each of the ive topped his catch with a five-pound eauty. Flory did not get a bite. Under the circumstances we are not expecting photograph.

Good Reports From Other Parts. Mr. and Mrs. George McSkimming who are just back from a fishing trip o the Gasconade near Richland, report black bass fishing most excellent, but they have some little advice to the tyro. Their two days' catch was 25 bass ranging from one to three pounds. They stopped at Mountain View Cottage. Mc-Skimming says unless one is familiar with the Gasconade it is advisable to have a guide. Their luck was poor until duide "Dude" Carroll joined them. Fishing is good on other streams, which swept along the lower Meramec. Lake fishing has been excellent. Beaver Dam Lake reports fine crowds and great sport. Posy Sam Goodman hooked a huge bass on a small red ibls fly and, of course, failed to land him. But he had a fine list of goggle eye, and so did all those who made Frank Rhodes' lace. Murdock Lake is good, and so s Horse Shoe Lake, Long Lake and

BASS WITH WATCH IN THROAT TAKEN FROM LAKE

Fish Had Swallowed Timepiece, and Chain Hung Out Mouth-Caught at 3:11 P. M.

ALEXANDRIA, Minn., Aug 2.-George W. Webster, a railroad man, knows that it was 3:11 p. m. when he caught a big bass in Lake L'Hommedieu. He gold chain, that the fish carried.

When Webster reached shore he got an explanation of the watch incident. A. E. Hodson, another railroad man, was fishing in the other end of the lake the day before and in playing a fish, jerked his watch from a pocket of his shirt with the end of his pole. The base had swallowed the watch, but a part of the chain was in sight when Webster hooked it. Hodson has the watch, bu: Webster kept the chain.

To Cure Corns, Callouses Bunions and Aching Feet

The following is said to be the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot allments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rub-bing the sore parts." The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goe can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time

GIRL'S CONFESSION OF MURDER CALLED SHIELD FOR SUITOR

Friends of Slain Man Declare Shot She Describes as Fatal Was Impossible.

UNWRITTEN LAW DEFENSE

Half-Burned Cigarette in Yard Raises Suspicion That a Man Was Near House.

BARDWELL, Ky., Aug. 2.—While Miss May Copeland, in jail, awaits trial on the charge of murdering Hugh J. Atchison, her brother-in-law, confident that she will be acquitted on her unwritten law plea, relatives and neighbors of the dead man are working to weave a net of circumstantial evidence that will break down the girl's confession and show her suitor, Lucien Turk, to be the

Their theory is that Miss Copeland has confessed to the shooting because she thought she would be acquitted by a jury, while Turk would be punished. Half-burned cigarettes and the unlikelihood that a chance bullet, fired blindly from behind her back, as she says she fired it, would hit its mark, are the primary bases of the theory that Turk shot Atchison.

Both Miss Copeland and Turk have been held without bond, to await action of the grand jury. Judge Hobbs ordered Miss Copeland taken to the jail at Wickliffe and Turk to Paducah, that they might not be able to consult pending further investigation.

ing further investigation.

Hardly less surprising than the killling is Miss Copeland's charge that Atchison attacked her in his home three days before he was shot. She declares that he overpowered her while she was taking a bath. Atchison, who was in good circumstances, had been highly regarded by his neighbors, and Miss Copeland and Turk are members of good families.

Says Atchison Assaulted Her.
Miss Copeland's story, told at the preliminary hearing, was that after Atchison attacked her she left his home, where she had been living, and went to stay with her mother in town. On the day of the murder she and Turk attended a fair and stopped in the evening at the home of Otis Bodkin, four miles from Atchison's home. As they were leaving the Bodkin place Turk, she says, called to her to bring his revolver.

At her request Turk drove to the Atchison home, that she might get some clothing. It was then after il o'clock. She called to her sister, and while the latter was getting some clothing from a wardrobe in the hall, she says, she went into the room where Atchison was in bed to get a coat.

"Have you told her yet?" she says
Atchison asked her, and she answered that she had not. She obtained the coat and went into the next room, and says that from there she threw Turk's revolver, which she had carried in her beit, behind her, and shot at him.

As Atchison staggered into the hallway where his wife was and fell, Miss Copeland fled to the buggy and she and Turk drove to town. She says she told Turk that Atchison had mistreated her.

The preliminary hearing developed several points that indicate that Miss Copeland's story has been arranged to shield the real assassin.

ld the real assassin.

Cigarette Butt as Evidence.

Cigarette Butt as Evidence.
Among the neighbors who gathered at the Atchison, home when Mrs. Atchison's screams spread an alarm was E. R. Atchison, a brother of the siain man. He was not satisfied with Miss Copeland's story and searched the yard and there found a half-burned cigarette. Later he found stubs of the same brand of cigarettes in Otis Bodkin's yard. Bodkin testified that Turk smoked cigarettes while sitting in his yard. Bodkin did not know whether his brother smoked cigarettes that evening or not. Neither did Bodkin nor any of his family hear Turk call to Miss Copeland to bring his revolver.

E. R. Atchison's theory is that Turk shot Atchison while Miss Copeland and here sister were in the form of the

W. R. Haselwood, a neighbor, testified that it would have been impossible for Miss Copeland to shoot Atchison from where she said she stood if Atchison had remained on the bed. This testimony was deemed of importance because J. W. Moss had testified that Miss Copeland had told him that she shot Atchison as he lay on the bed.

Story of the Accused Man.

Mrs. Atchison's story in the main agreed with that of her sister. She testified that when Miss Copeland came to their home near midnight and asked for her clothing she told her that "Lucien (Turk) was mad at them." Mrs. Atchison did not see a revolver. The shot was fired, she said, as she was in the front hall getting a scarf from a wardrobe there. She said she had not heard anyone talking to her husband in the back room. She had seen no one

Turk, as a witness, flatly denied that he smoked cigarettes at all or knew of the brand of which stubs were found at the Bodkin home and at the Atchison place. He said Miss Copeland aske i him to drive to the Atchison home to get some clothing, but that she had not told him of ang trouble. He said that he remained in the buggy while she was in the house, perhaps 10 minutes. When Miss Copeland rejoined him at the buggy she told him that she had shot Atchison. He wanted to go to the house, he said, but Miss Copeland demanded that he drive away, and he took her to his mother's home, where they told what had happened.

Neighbors of the Atchison family resorted the circumstances to the town authorities, and Turk and Miss Copeand were arrested at 2 o'clock in the morning. A Coroney's jury that day neld them for the murder, naming Miss

Monday Begins the 6th Week of Unprecedented Activity in This Extraordinary

REMOVAL SAILE

ST. LOUIS' premier retailing event continues its great marathon of value giving, fresh with its vast assortments of crisp, new goods, & running far ahead of any selling records previously set. The rapid selling pace set on the first day & the first week has been maintained, & the event so greatly overshadows all other merchandising occasions that St. Louis' shopping interest centers in this gigantic clearaway of our entire $1,500,000.00 stock.

The unbounded confidence which the public reposes in this store, in its merchandising system & constructive storekeeping methods is evidenced in the uninterrupted spirited buying, & in the daily attendance not only of St. Louis people but also of folks for miles around. Though not a price has been quoted because of the impracticability of so doing, yet the radical nature of the underpricing is pretty generally known among people from the word-of-mouth advertising done by hundreds of satisfied patrons.

This sale has been of unmeasured service to the multitude because it engages our entire stock. EVERY ARTICLE in EVERY SECTION has been subjected to an unsparing schedule of price revisions varying in different departments & on various goods from 10% to 50%, & in many instances even greater abatements are made for the prompt disposal of lots. Many thrifty folks are not only providing present requirements but are supplying Fall & Winter needs at savings which pay them handsomely for buying, now, things they would have to pay regular prices for in a few weeks.

Monday Will Be Hosiery & Knit Underwear Day

A signal occasion for the profitable buying of hosiery & knitwear for the fam ly & a most opportune time for anticipating needs for weeks & months to come. Drastic measures are resorted to for immediate clearing OSIERY will not be bought for so little money in many days to come as here Monday. A determined effort to clear away as much of the entire stock as is possible, to clean out all stock oddments will be made Monday. Prices are named that should prove a potent agency in this distribution, & stocks have been displayed so that satisfactory choosing will be easily made.

Every member of the family with a single hosiery need will find it supplied in this HOSIERY DAY. Practical mothers will buy school hosiery for the children, for themselves, for the man of the house, & in so doing earn the largest savings possible during the year. Though impractical to list the items & prices,

HOW GRAND JURY CAN GET FACTS ON LEGISLATIVE LOBBY

The Post-Dispatch's Representative at the Recent Sessions of the General Assembly Describes "Third House's Methods" and Tells How Cole County Inquisitors Can Find the Truth.

Staff Correspondent of the Post-Disputch at Jefferson City During the Recent Session of the Legislature.

Circuit Judge John G. Slate, in his charge to the Cole County grand jury at Jefferson City last Monday, called attention to reported violations of the anti-lobby law at the recent session of the General Assembly, but qualified his instructions by advising the inquisitorial body against incurring expense in its efforts to uncover the lobby evil.

"Every member of the General Assembly," said Judge Slate, "was fully advised months ago, by the newspapers and otherwise, that the grand jury would be in session here today. Permit those who have knowledge of these offenses to come before you and give evidence thereof without com-

Senate Committee Returns Ad ministration Plan, Eliminating Protectorate Idea.

Canal Concession and Naval Base O K; Stone, Hitchcock, Burton Alone Favored Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary Bryan's plan for an American pro-tectorate over Nicaragua providing American supervision of Nicaragua' finances, independence and foreign relations, has been shelved for the time being. Apparently with the knowledge of the administration the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before which the project has rested for two weeks, passed a resolution today asking the Secretary of State to submit a new Nicaraguan treaty, omitting the protectorate policy.

The compact at the request of the Senate Committee is to be limited strictly to the original negotiations with Nicaragua, by which the United States was to pay $3,000,000 for an exclusive canal right across the country, a naval base site on the Bay o Fonseca and a lease to the Corn Islands in the Caribbean Sea. The situation had been laid before the President it is understood, and it is expected that the administration will submit next week a new draft of the treaty that will comply with the Senate's suggestion. Mem bers of the Foreign Relations Comnittee asserted today that the future policy of the Government as to the establishment of Central American protectorates had not been deter-

'If the authorities believe it wise to sequire Great and Little Corn Islands, the Carribbean Sea, no objections will be made by the committee, pro "ded a definite and fair price is named dor outright purchase."

The test vote in the committee came a resolution to return the Nicaraghe protectorate feature eliminated, nad statement indicating precisely the baon which a new convention would es ratified.

Stone Fights for Treaty. These four Senators voted against the resolution: Stone, Hitchcock, Burton and Smith of Michigan. Smith favored the return of the treaty, not only with the protectorate proposition stricken out, but without a promise to accept the other features. He is opposed to the canal concession and the purchase of naval and military bases. He charac-"dollar diplomacy" and "drum stick diplomacy" as being almost equaly objectionable.

As the vote stood, only three Senators really favored the protectorate idea-Stone Hitchcock and Burton, two Dem erats and one Republican.

Senators Lodge, Root, Sutherland, Mc Cumber and O'Gorman were not present at today's meeting.

Secretary Bryan did not appear be fore the committee today, as expected. The discussion in the committee was animated and protracted, but one-sided. Stone, Hitchcock and Burton sought to save the treaty, but the fight was uphill. Opposition was led by Senator Borah, assisted by Williams and Clark of Arkansas. They declared that 'drumstick diplomacy" was imperialism that the obligations and alliances of the United States should be not extended further.

POLICIES PLANNED

Syndicate, Including A. A. Busch, Charles Lemp, Goltra and Others, Now Dominates.

Control of the Commonwealth Trust Co., it became known yesterday, has passed from financial interests affil-iated with President Albert N. Edwards to a syndicate headed by R. B. Dula, president of the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., Samuel W. Fordyce, capitalist; E. F. Goltra, president of the Missouri fron Foundry Co., August A. Busch president of the Anheuser-Busch Brew ing Association and Charles A. Lemp, vice-president of the Lemp Brewing Co. Former Circuit Judge Daniel G. Taylor is to be made president of the com-pany eventually, following the reor-ganization of the Board of Directors, according to the statement of a director

The Post-Dispatch's informant, who has been identified with the Commonwealth Co. as a director for 10 years, and who is among its eight largest stockholders, says a change in manage ent has been anticipated since last March, but nothing definite came o teps to this end because of the apparent reluctance of Edwards to relinquis he presidency of the institution. It appears that as president of the com oany, Edwards has a $15,000-a-year con tract, which does not expire until Feb

o a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday.

It is planned to retain more than hall of the present directors with President Edwards serving until next January, uness he should retire before that time. At a recent conference of the con rolling interests it was suggested that the Commonwealth directors be asked to create the office of "chairman of the board," with the understanding that the position should be tendered to Judge Taylor. Judge Taylor, it is stated, was unwilling to accept the chairmanship and the matter was dropped.

the fall. President Edwards, when seen by Post-Dispatch reporter, refused iscuss the report of his contemplated esignation.

"I never discuss the affairs of the ompany," he said. As to the reputed change in ownership of the company's 2,000,000 capital stock, President Edwards was equally reticent.

The present directors of the Com monwealth Trust Co. are: George O. Carpenter, Thomas W. Crouch, Samel C. Davis, Albert N. Edwards, S. V. Fordyce, W. C. Fordyce, Edward C. Goltra, James Green, J. L. It is understood the new directors will include the members of the stock syndicate, Adolphus Busch, grandson f Adolphus Busch, and Judge Tay or. Whether the directorate can be changed before the regular annual election in January is one of the uestions which the syndicate now is under consideration. In the event of the resignation of any of the directors, their places could be filled by the other directors, but in that event the stockholders would not necessarily be consulted. Plans to broaden the Common wealth company's field of financial activity, coupled with rumors of disaffection among the directors growing out of President Edwards' policies, are mentioned among the reasons for the proposed reorganiza

The Commonwealth company for years paid a dividend of 6 per cent year on the 20,000 shares of capital stock. At the time this dividend was suspended in March last it was announced by the management that onditions did not warrant further payment to the stockholders and that was the purpose of the directorate to build up a material surplus.
The surplus, classified under the head of "undivided profits," is now $93,897.94, as against $85,000 three onths ago.

The company owns bonds and stocks to the amount of $1,986,495.74. These securities, according to the Post-Dispatch's informant, are listed at their actual market valuation.

Maxwell Motor Company Incorporated Detroit, U.S. A.

THEY SAID—what did they say? What mattered what they said? They were competitors much perturbed—so what could they say? What must they say-being competitors-much perturbed?

4,000 DEALERS will handle Maxwell Motor Cars for the season of 1914. Season dated from August first-deliveries at new prices now being made.

THAT'S OUR ANSWER to all they said. That tells the story. What is it they say about "he who laughs last?"

MAXWELL CARS WILL DOMINATE the trade for 1914 in the three big classes which command the greatest popularity.

THE FULL SIGNIFICANCE of the line "4,000 dealers," may not have occurred to you. It means, in a word, that we not only have the cars the connoisseurs desire, but that we are now ready to manufacture them in numbers sufficient to supply the insistent demand.

YOUR DEALER SEEMS TO HAVE a kind of sixth sense when it comes to picking the winner in the selling field from season to season.

HE KNCWS: He has his finger on the pulse of the buyer, his eyes on the makers all the time. And he seldom guesses wrong. The successful dealer never—that's why he succeeds.

THIS IS A FAST-MOVING, quick-forgetting business. Watching it is like looking thru a kaleidoscope. It is ever changing.

THE DEALER KNOWS and you can't go wrong by following his lead for, you see, he is looking for the same things you are seeking-only from a different angle.

HE WANTS CARS that sell themselves. You never knew a dealer to go gunning for trouble, did you? Or looking for hard work?

NOT HE. HE FOLLOWS THE TREND of fashion in design, the progress of the science of metallurgy and manufacture. And when he sees a concern leading in these, he goes hotfoot after that line of cars.

WE HAVE CONCENTRATED our tremendous factory facilities; re-arranged and reequipped the plants for economical production of automobiles in large quantities.

AND EACH MODEL WILL dominate its class because a better car better material. better workmanship and better finish for the same or less money.

DO YOU WONDER dealers are clamoring for the Maxwell line for 1914? They would belie their reputation for astuteness if they

WHY, LAST WEEK we shipped the first 50 cars of the Maxwell "25" model to 50 points in the United States, and invited all dealers to come and see and try out this wonderful can

THEY CAME, they saw and the new "25" Maxwell conquered. It was great to see their enthusiasm when the car, carrying five dealers aggregating 1010 pounds, sped up "Abbey Hill"—the stiffest grade on Manhattan and a double-S turn-on high gear as if it were on the level.

OVER AND OVER AGAIN they put the car to the test-climbing the hill at all speeds down to 8 miles per hour on high gear-just a 'pullin' all the time.

BUT WE ARE DIGRESSING-so enthusiastic about that wonderful "25" we forgot our text for the moment. Let's discuss the entire line-for there isn't a dead one in it no model that is a load on the others. Each is supreme in its class.

TAKE THE "50-6" for example now thoroughly tried and proven. 1913 output all sold. Deliveries of 1914 model-left-hand drive with right side drive optional-begins August 15th.

1914 PRICE is $1975.

THERE'S A LINE that will create conster nation in the trade. They all expected it would be $2,400 -- in fact we said so. That was the price we had decided on, but-

PERHAPS, YOU'VE NOTICED there's a wicked war on for supremacy in this class of car. We concluded that, so long as other makers had started it we would give them a real six at a real price and see how far they can go. Watch it-it will be interestingand the buyer will be the beneficiary.

IT WILL BE UP TO makers of $3,500-$4,000, yes, and $5,000 sixes to demonstrate wherein they give the difference in value. .

AND WHAT ABOUT the manufacturer who stuck to fours for one season too long? Having himself failed to progress he would stop all progress. He would sweep back the sea with his tiny whisk broom! He protests that folk will still pay $2,000 for fours-and convinces no one but himself.

IN SEVEN PASSENGER CARS the six is now supreme. It is not coming; it is here.

THEN THE MAXWELL "35"-This is, we firmly believe, the greatest car ever made in the so-called intermediate price class—a big five passenger car for that great class of buyer who wants all there is of comfort and power, at a price he can afford.

1914 PRICE IS $1085 without and $1225 with electric starter and lights. Equal this if you can-in a car of anywhere near the quality.

ELOC-CAST MOTOR—fourth year unchanged. A motor such as you can't surpass in a $2000 car. And all other features equally excellent. This car will lead-distance all others in its

AND FINALLY THE "25"—the car the trade has been talking about, looking for, waiting

IT IS HERE-WE ARE DELIVERING-and while we may not hope to supply all who want them, we will be able to appease 30,000 buyers during the next twelve months.

YOUR ENTHUSIASM will know no bounds when you see and ride in this "25."

THIS IS A REAL AUTOMOBILE full 25 horsepower, bloc cast motor; 103" wheel base; same size tires all around, 30 x 31/4; full five passenger body; 3 speed selective transmission; cone clutch; worm and sector steering gear; left-hand drive; center control; magneto all the features of a high priced car.

AND AT A PRICE no other maker has ever before been able to produce such a car-$750 plus the freight.

THE RESULT OF MORE concentrated experience, engineering and metallurgical knowledge, manufacturing skill and financial resources than any other, this car justifies our efforts and fulfils our fondest hopes.

IT WAS DESIGNED to meet the ideas and the needs of tens of thousands of discriminating buyers - not beginners but experienced motorists—who must consult the purse and yet who detest and decline to wear a uniform and are willing to pay a little more for a car that is a lot better.

WE WILL BUILD 30,000 of this model; 12, 000 of the "35" and 2,000 to 3,000 of the Maxwell 50-6 in the next twelve months.

THAT'S SECOND LARGEST in the worldand still we are not satisfied. Watch the Manager of James Campbell's Properties Tells of Opera Bouffe Insurrection.

H. C. Conklin, general manager of James Campbell's gold and silver mines at Lluvia de Oro, Chihuahus, Mexico was a caller yesterday at the offices of ampbell in the Commonwealth Trust Building, where he discussed the Mexian situation with a Post-Dispatch reporter. The Campbell mines, employing 158 men, have been closed down indefi-nitely, he said, and there is no prospect of resumption until the revolutionar

"The Mexican situation," said Conklin "is a paradox of gravity and humor. For three years I have been in the midst of the popul scrimmage, which by no stretch of the imagination, can be desigated as war or even a full-fledged revo ution. It is an ugly internecine row troublesome and costly to trada and ommerce only because it has ered law lessness and disrespect for law. Not only American citizens, but those of other nations, have been victimized and numiliated by the political grafters and self-constituted leaders of the insurectionary factions.

Battles With "Cuss" Words. "I have seen what some humorous (unintentionally) writer has been pleased to call 'battles.' The fighting factions would line up, 200 or 300 yards distant and suddenly there would be a wild interchange of shots, most of the bullets whizzing in the direction of the sky. Then one side would vanish sud-denly and reappear on the tops of buildings. The attacking force would cheer the 'victory' won and then begin calling the soldiers on the housetops all sorts of names. The 'housetop' fugi-tives would reply with a volley of aths and the verbal harangue continu until 8 or 9 o'clock at night, when the tired-out warriors retired. Second Victory in Series with Braves for "Hickory Bob" Enables Cardinals to Move Ahead of the Reds.

By W. J. O'Connor.

SING the wounded Braves as stepping stones, the Cardinals yesterday afternoon climbed out of last place in the National League and planted their banners on the ramparts of Berth No. 7. A defeat for the luckless Reds in Rhineland made this feat possible. The Cards, however, found the Boston enemy rather easy and wrote a 4-2 victory into the records

CARDINAL RECRUIT POUNDED HARD BY

Ferriers Have Batting Rally at Expense of Tom McGuire and Win Game, 8 to 1.

By Clarence F. Lloyd

Had Manager Miller Huggins of the Cardinals observed the work of Pitcher Tom McGuire of the Chicago Federals in the sixth inning of yes terday's game with the St. Louis Terriers, he would probably have called off negotiations to land the Windy City right-hander. But despite the fact that Manager Huggins' scouts reported that McGuire was ready for the big show and induced him to pay something like $300 advance money to the hurler, O'Connor's men hammered him hard. The result was an 8 to 1 victory for the Terriers. The contest was a good one save n one inning when the Terriers hammered McGuire for six runs. Southpaw King, whom some fans cognized as "Hank" Kuepper, tried out several years ago by the Giants, and late of the Bloomington (Three I League) team, hurled for the Ter-

HAMILTON FAILS TO STOP ONWARD RUSH OF MACKMEN

Carroll Brown Has Better of Pitching Argument With Young Southpaw and Browns Lose Game, 4 to 1.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2.

ARL HAMILTON, the clever young southpaw, failed to fool the Athletics in the fourth and final battle of the series this afternoon and the Browns lost by the score of 4 to 1. While Hamilton allowed eleven hits, he kept them well scattered.

It was chiefly because Carroll Brown, the tall right-hander, had the Browns guessing that the St. Louisans were humbled. Despite the loss,

After the first inning, in which the Browns collected their lone Brown had the Mound City batters at his mercy. He held them to five nits. # The Goodyear Secret

The No-Rim-Cut tire is a Goodyear invention, and we still control it.

An essential feature is these braided wires, which no one else can make.

This tire can't rim-cut - that we guarantee. This fact has saved motorists many millions of dollars.

It has also made Goodyears the world's favorite tires. They now outsell any other.

Ruins Almost 1 in 3

Time and again we have gathered statistics to show what rim-cuts cost. This year we employed certified public accountants, so the figures could not be disputed.

They examined thousands of ruined clincher tires, taking them as they came. The old-type, hooked-base tires. And they found that 31.8 per cent had been discarded for rim-cutting

That's almost one tire in three. That conveys some idea of the saving accomplished by this Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tire.

How We Did It

We did this by making a hookless tire-one that does not hook to the rim.

Thus your removable rim flanges can be set to curve outward-not inward as with clincher

Then the tire, when wholly or partly deflated, rests on a rounded edge. There is no curved-in rim flange to dig into the tire. Thus rim-cutting is made impossible. These tires fit any standard rim

This hookless tire makes it essential to have an unstretchable fire base. It must be held on, under every strain, so that nothing can stretch the tire over the rim flange.

We get this by vulcanizing into the tire base six flat bands of 126 braided wires. See picture at the top.

This tire can't be forced off. But when you unlock and remove a flange it easily slips off. There are no hooks on the base to "freeze"

into the rim flange, as with old-type tires. Controlled by Secrecy

These braided wires are made under lock and key-made by secret machinery.

They cannot be imitated. And it seems that a faultless tire of this type cannot be made

Makers have tried it again and again, but thousands of the tires came back for replace-

So the wish to end rim-cutting has forced tire users to Goodyear No-Rim-Cut tires.

With or Without Non-Skid Treads

How We Combat Two Other Ruinations

Hundreds of thousands of men have adopted them. And this tire has become, after eight years of tests, the leading tire of the world.

Next to rim-cutting, the costliest items in tire upkeep are due to blow-outs and tread sep-

To minimize blow-outs we use the "On-Ah Cure." The tires are final-vulcanised on elastic air bags instead of an iron core.

This prevents the fabric from buckling and wrinkling. It equalizes strains. Thus we avoid the cause of countless blow-outs.

This "On-Air Cure," used by us alone, adds to our cost $1,500 daily.

Tread separation, when it occurs, comes near the breaker strip. This is the fabric strip which comes between the tread and carcass in

For this strip we use a patent "rivet fabric." carcass, hundreds of large rivets of rubben,

We have exclusive use of this patent. No

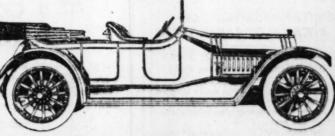

No-Rim-Cut tires, with these costly features, used to cost one-fifth more than clinchers. Now they cost no extra price. This is due to our multiplied output.

AN EFFICIENT MOTOR

ALWAYS ASSURED Have you ever stopped to consider the number of strokes made by each properly. Soapstone dusted on the rim piston of your motor in a month's will act as a lubricant and make it touring? Think of the millions of explosions necessary to those strokes, touched tops of the pistons and combustion chamber walls. What do you suppose is the sediment or waste acplosions-the burned oils and gasescalled carbon? The exhaust is supposed to carry off these, but look at the small exhaust ports and see the slim possibility of even near-complete exhaustion. "Six Little Yankees" chemical carbon remover and preventive will remove that carbon, quickly, easily and economically. Car wners, who have studied the ailnents and needs of their motors now nearly everything that is good for a motor. That they speak highly of "Six Little Yankees" means much to those who are not so experienced. "Six Little Yankees" can be used while the motor is in operation, is non-explosive, harmless and highly effective. unprecedented, according to realty agents. The only difference between the $10 a foot and the $25 a foot lots is that the 'atter are in the built-up section. But within a comparatively short time Southampton will have been completely built up.

The original subdivision, which was placed on the market several years ago, is almost a solid front of houses, all of an attractive and substantial character.

The subdivision is removed from the acter.

The subdivision is removed from the smoke and grime and noise of the city, and offers a haven for the wage-earning classes.

The location on King's highway and Devonshire avenue, one of the most inviting parts of Southwest St. Louis, is conceded to be the most attractive sections of the city.

If you don't want to buy real estate however, do not visit Southampton.

Contract. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 2.-The repudiation of a bill for $15,000 for street lighting by the Finance Committee of the City Council was announced by Chairman T. H. Gideon this afternoon. He stated the city had no authority to pay the bill and the lighting company could not force the city to pay for service for which they have no contract.
Gideon holds that the charter of the city prohibits the payment of claims not previously authorized by ordinance. The city has not paid its lighting bill since Jan. 1, 1913, on account of the controversy being waged with the Spring-field Gas and Electric Co. over the rates for electricity. Private consumers are paying the old ates under penalty of being denied service.

CONCENTRATION

Starts

Don't Let Anything Stop You-Come in at Once

P. A. STARCK PIANO CO. decide to close up a number of their outlying branch stores and all consignment dealers' accounts and center their entire business in St. Louis, Chicago and other large cities.

1600 Old Standard Make Pianos and Player-Pianos brought in from these closed branches and consignment dealers go on sale tomorrow morning at about 35c on the dollar and on terms and conditions that will clear the entire stock out in a week.

Our auditors have been working for months on this concentration plan getting agents' and dealers' accounts in shape to be closed hurriedly, and all this stock is being rushed to us to be disposed of at once. This stock is arriving by the trainload, and our entire building is jam full of these fine instruments. Every one must be disposed of at once, even though some of them must be given away or placed with responsible people for free use until we can find room to accommodate them. Some of these pianos are new, others are dealers' floor samples, others are pianos that have been out for rent, still others are slightly used, and some are secondhand instruments taken in exchange for new Starck Pianos and Starck Player-Pianos.

You can get your daughter a piano now and save $100 to $250. Besides we offer the easiest terms and conditions, and give a full course of music lessons free.

Many people put off from day to day the purchase of a piano under the impression that it is a gigantic undertaking—that hours of time and lots of worry of necessity go with the task of getting the piano they want. Now all this is done away with here. We make selecting a piano as easy and pleasant as shopping in your favorite store for a suit or dress. In this sale this fact is more evident than ever, because nearly all the instruments are old standard makes well known to everyone, such as Starck, Steinway, Knabe, Chickering, Lindeman, Vose, Fischer, Kurtzman, Ivers & Pond, Jesse French, Everett, Kimball, Bradbury, Baldwin, Gabler, Cable Nelson, etc.

DURING # THIS SALE

SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH'S REVIEW OF MARKET CONDITIONS

MOVEMENT OF GOVERNMENT BONDS IS FEATURE OF THE WEEK IN EASTERN MARKET

Prices Recover From a Decline Said to Have Been Caused by Banks.

LONDON RECEIVES GOLD

Foreign Bankers Seem Prepared to Meet Fall Demands for Money.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 2 .- The Evening ost, in its copyrighted weekly finan cial review, says:

"Two incidents of this week, af-fecting the relation of the Govern-ment to the financial situation, have shown with unusual clearness first, how not to do it, and second, how to shown with unusual clearness first, how not to do it, and second, how to do it, and second, how to do it.

"Government bonds declined sharply on the market; the Finance Minister of the United States publicly declares that the fall was due to a conspiracy of New York banks.

"Waiving the question either of accuracy or of propriety in the matter, the immediate conclusion of all experienced people was that the market for Government securities had received a blow.

"This was so for two reasons—that so unprecedented an action would be taken by many holders of such securities as evidence of a desperate situation and that, even where this was not inferred, a desire to get free from connection with a market, where such accusations were flying would have been instilled.

"Had Monday's statement actually been the precursor of a continued campaign of incrimination, the effect on the value of Government bonds would have been most unfortunate. The statement left the Government bond market as weak as itwas before

"Three days later comes the announcement that the Treasury will increase the public deposits with interior banks, but with the stipulation that banks desiring such accounts must increase their bond-secured note circulation to a given ratio, where they had allowed it to be retired. Here was one of the wholly legitimate and effective expedients to which capable Treasury officers in the past resorted.

"Et is the business of a finance min-

"It is the business of a finance minister to support the public credit. The British exchequer buys freely for the linking fund when a fright has seized restors in British consols; the French feasury does the same in a break in entes."

entes."
"It is a matter of history, that Secretary McCulloch actually sent to the Stock Exchange heavy Government buying orders for national securities, on the day after Lincoln's assassination.
"The present expedient, of granting legitimate facilities, on conditions whose performance would involve purchase of Government securities, has been successfully pursued before. This time, it put up the price of the 2 per cents 2 points on the very day of its announcement.

points on the very day of its announcement.

"The moral, as the improving tales of our childhood used to put it, is that when a troublesome problem has to be solved, in the Government or anywhere else, the thing to do is to set practically to work at its solution—not to complain and rail at someone else who is imagined to have created it.

"This principle has a very much broader scope than its application to such passing incidents as this week's. It concerns the attitude of all branches of the Government toward the ploblems of the day.

GOLD IMPORTS HELP THE LONDON MARKET

Foreign Bankers Are Less Apprehensive Over the Monetary Outlook.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The best feature of the situation as it stands is the large impending arrivals of 70ld in London from South America. With this addition to our bank reserve in sight, apprehensions of money markst stringency in the autumn are now aimost removed.

At the moment, 5 per cent is the highest figure predicted for the Bank of England rate, as against the existing 4%. Thus the general autumn outlook may be called moderately favorable.

Derides Idea That Sailors Should Not Mess With Officers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.-Referring "perfumed officers of the navy ith emphasis and effectiveness, Sen ator Kern this afternoon defended the idea advanced by Secretary Danlels that officers and enlisted mer the navy should mess together

The criticism of "perfumed offi-ers" was called forth by a question from Senator Gallinger, regarding the sentiment expressed by Secretary Daniels that officers and enlisted en should mess together. Swanson requested that the address Secretary Daniels before the last graduating class at Annapolis be inted as a public document.

"I will ask," said Senator Gallin ger, "whether or not the Secretary of the Navy in this address advocated what he has advocated elsewhere if not on that occasion, that the officers seamen of the navy should be required to mess together.'

Swanson Replies Replying, Swanson said it was not a political address, but one that "would be worthy for the young men entering the navy to read." Coming into the debate, Senator Kern said:
"A question has come up repeatedly in the former regime as to whether or not a meritorious sailor should receive proon, and no matter how meritorious was the proposition was made that would not do to advance him becaus wo Brides Will Meet in Chi cago for Honeymoon and Divide Trousseau, Perhaps.

Today two St. Louis brides, sisters, nd their husbands will set sail on take Michigan for a honeymoon voyage. Until yesterday both brides had lived all their lives in Calvary Cemetery, where they were born. Transition from the somber precincts of the great city of the dead to the blue waters and inspirational ozone of the big inland sea came about through two weddings of very different sort.

One was a church wedding, with the blessings of four priests and the good wishes of a large assemblage of friends.

The other was an elopement The weddings were those of John O'Connor Jr. of 5048 Ridge avenue and Miss Marguerite M. Brazill; and Roland von Hofen of 8408 Hall's Ferry road and Miss Theresa Brazill. The latter pair were married without the Brazill parental blessing but happily they received it immediately after the parish house ceremony.

The brides are daughters of Mateque, Wednesday night, Aug. 13. At thew T. May Van Alen, Granddaughter of an Astor, Who Has Had Innumerable Suitors. One of Whom Killed Himself. to Marry an Unknown Bond Salesman

HE most noted bachelor in New York's really and truly "smart set" is to be married. James J. Van Alen of Wakehurst, Newport, London, Paris and other cities has announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss May Van Alen, to Mr. Griswold A. Thompson of New York. That sounds commonplace enough-but-Back of the news of this engagement is, first, the story of an obdurate parent, rich, prominent and somewhat eccentrically dictatorial, and, next, of his eldest daughter, sought unsuccessfully by a series of suitors, who has finally engaged herself to a man of no social or financial importance whatever, whom yet the obdurate parent approves, and, last, it is the interesting story of the prospective groom himself who, without any of the financial and family equipment supposed to be necessary, has stormed the citadel of social Gotham and carried off one of its chief prizes.

To begin with, she is the granddaughter of he late most eminent Mrs. William Astor and niece of the late Col. John Jacob Astor; first cousin of Vincent Astor and as closely related to all the rest of the extensive Astor connection. out, aside from the importance and social standing of her family, Miss Van Aien is decidedly good looking and clever, rich in her own right, for she inherited a fortune estimated to yield her $75,000 a year, and amazingly independent. She has her own home in New York at 125 East Sixty-ninth street, apart from the rest of her family, and in Newport she used to rent the Augustus Jay cottage, leaving her father to solitary state at Wakehurst, his princely estate in the summer city of hydrangeas and millionaires. Abroad, she has been for several years chatelaine of Rushton Hall, the splendid Van ... en mansion and acres in Northamptonshire, which er fathe" has just sold, announcing that in future he would again make America his home.

For a moment let us revert to the above-said obdurate parent:

from early manhood, James J. Van Alen cemented his own distinction by marrying Miss Emily Astor, elder sister of the late Col. Astor. She died in 1881, leaving three children, Miss May Van Alen, J. Laurens Van Alen, who married Miss Margaret Post, and Miss Sarah S. Van Alen, now Mrs. Robert Collier.

Mr. Lehr no longer a suitor, Miss Van Alen cemed to be fancy free for four years. Then there were persistent rumors that she was to Lehr. But no engagement was ever announced and Lieut. Hobson passed out of Newport's ken. Leaving the heroine ranging the universe, the

She was seen again in 1904, and there was another suitor in her train-this time Ralph Ranlet of Holyoke, Mass., son of a banker there. A Harvard man, well to do; immaculately dressed always; an anthority on horses and automobiles; good at golf and tennis; a judge of rare vintages and at home in the ballroom, it looked like smooth newest fashionable bride-to-be ever since she has sailing for young Mr. Ranlet. But again the obdurate parent put his foot down; again there was no wedding! And Mr. Ranlet forsook Newport. Meanwhile gossip found for the lady a new group of suitors. The imposing yet graceful entrance to the state is the first feature to claim the attention f the visitor who drives out from Tarrytown. It is a superb grilled iron gateway of Italian deign, its shining black relieved here and there by touch of gold. The high iron fence surrounding the place is of a similar detail. Opposite the gateway is a beautiful exedra fountain of marble. Water spouts from the mouths of three carved tone mas s, the central face being that of a smiling girl, and the others of two men, one of whom a grinning and the other scowling in jealous age. There are lights in the heads of the fountain, making three bright streams of water at night, and bulbs sunk around the rim of the basin throw rippling reflections from the waving water on the surface of the niche above.

This is a detail that applies to the whole series f improvements. Every waterfall, brook and 'ountain is electrically equipped, and in some intances with colored globes There are also many forms of light posts in special places, and Japaese la terns are leyed in the iron grills, susended from pergola roofs and bracketed from the walls. This treatment, which renders the garden as usable by night as by day, is practically ew in landscape gardening.

Here is a sun en garden with unadorned grass anels, enlivened by bands of flowers in the borlers, and edged with box and with accents of lipped trees brought from dolland. Through the center of this garden flows a canal, which begins in a cascade in front of a stone teahouse and ends in a monolith four tain.

INDUSTRY AS ESCAPE FROM MARRIAGE

By INEZ MILHOLLAND.

OMAN'S share in the business of life has taken two main directions: marriage and industry. Marriage has not infrequent'y been a refuge for girls and women overtared in industry; industry has in many cases offered an escape from unsuccessful marriage. But in each of these great departments of life woman has mainly served the traditional or conscious purposes and desires of man in a civilization mainly devised and administered by men.

Mrs. Roissevain declared that she didn't have time even to tell her mother she was going to get married, though Mrs. Milholland has a house in Kensington and wes there at the moment. In fact, it was very much like the romance of a St. Louis stenographer or salesgirl of no eugenic or militant tendencies whatever, wh leaves home "to visit a friend," meets the friend at Grand avenue and Olive street, boards a car with him and is married to to him in Justice Werremeyer's office at Clayton, later calling up mamma by tele-There is this difference—that Miss Mil

By the time that I was ending my career as ivil Service Commissioner I was already growing to understand that mere improvement in political conditions by itself was not enough. I dimly realized that an even greater fight must be waged to improve economic conditions, and to secure social and industrial justice, justice as between individuals and justice as between classes.

I began to see that political effort was largely valuable as it found expression and resulted in such social and industrial betterment. I had grown to realize very keenly that the duty of the Government to protect women and children must be extended to include the protection of all the crushable elements of labor. I saw that it was the affair of all our people to see that justice obtained between the big corporation and its employes and between the big corporation and its smaller rivals, as well as its customers and the general public

I saw that it was the affair of all of us, and not only of the employer, if dividends went up and wages went down; that it was to the interest of interest of all of us that each man, whether no law can save him, and he must give way to brain worker or hand worker, should do the best better type. work of which he was capable, and that there should be some correspondence between the value of the work and the value of the reward.

* THE VOGUE OF THE SASH *

Color Contrast

To be in fashion wear a sash and you cannot go astray. Wear it high or low, light or dark, of heavy velvet or sheer mousselipe, but be sure it is as striking and conspic-

For what could be more startling than these examples snapped but a few days since on Paris boulevards?

In the first (upper left) what may be a slender, craceful figure is lost in a great swathing of velvet that a broad ribbon sash may show to it full advantage. The contrast of heavy girdle over an acolyte surplice of filmy lace is just as chic as it is irrational.

Certainly in the other snapshots wide sashes, one of crepe, the other of messaline, standing out in vivid color contrast against the white gowns beneath, are the most conspicuous feature of these two smart toilettes.

With fashion's complete surrender to Oriental ideas the past few seasons, the sash, so large and important a part of the costume of the Turk, the Chinese, the Hindoo and whatever nation of the Far East, men and women alike, was in-

Chic Parisiennes and tall straight American fashionables have been somewhat loathe to sacrifice slender waistlines to the broadening effect of the extremely wide, loosely draped sashes favored by the Eastern voluptuary. But Fashion is victorious at last, almost.

Emphasis of the abdomen, according to the Criental ideal, is almost attained, as is evidenced by most of the extreme models received from abroad. But it will be seen that in two in linear at least that, although the Parisienne will wear the draped, many-folded apron effect, she refuses to broaden out the hips she has been at such pains to reduce the past few seasons. See how the gets around that danger: In the two costumes pictured at the right Mille, has slashed her skirt and passed the sash through, leaving a comparatively flat and smooth effect over the hips, and slender lines are maintained.

As if she had just stepped out of a painting of 150 years ago, comes the model launched by one of the most popular fashion creators of Paris today. Having without doubt taken his inspiration from the fashions of the First Empire he has mingled in charming harmony fads of the present and fancies of another period. The coral miniature certainly had to be resurrected, as did the design of the high-waisted taffeta bodice which it clasps.

The narrow ribbon circlet about the neck, the strapped sandals, the winding turban, are such as the Empress Josephine or Madame Recamier rejoiced in. But who will say this costume is not the height of smartness and daring, for all its quantness?

HERE is no doubt at all about it; since it became the fashion to part the hair it looks much better with a slight wave than it does absolutely straight. And it is so easy to put a natural wave in the hair no woman should go around with her locks sticking flat to her head.

All one has to do is to part the top hair—the looks that would naturally come on top when the hair is done up—and separate it from the other hair, which doesn't need to be waved, for it will not show. Now take a thick strand of this "top hair" and twist it back and forth on a huge hairpin. You can use a real hairpin for this purpose, but it is better to buy old-fashioned crimpins pins, which are like huge hairpins made of thick, smooth wire and have a tiny metal slide at one end to hold the hair in place.

A 10-cent package will last five years. Unless the hair is rather stiff it is necessary to put it up in pins for only an hour or two to make a lovely wave. The hair should first be damped slightly by drawing a wet comb through it. These waves are just as pretty for a low pompadour as they are for parted hair.

So much hair is wound over each pin that it makes it quite soft. But if they bother you, start twisting the side hair on the pin well up on the head, where you don't have to lie on it. If you prefer, you can wave your hair by means of a Grecian fillet, which is becoming and at the same time most effective. You can make such a fillet out of three bands of tape fastened together just below the ears, with a longer piece of tape at each end to tie at the back of the head.

To wave the hair dampen it slightly and if wea' soapsuds are used for the purpose the waves will be more lasting. Then bind it down with the fillets and run your fingers under the hair between each fillet and pull it up in a deep wave. Braid the back of the hair and tie an old chiffon veil over the top of the head to keep the fillet in place.

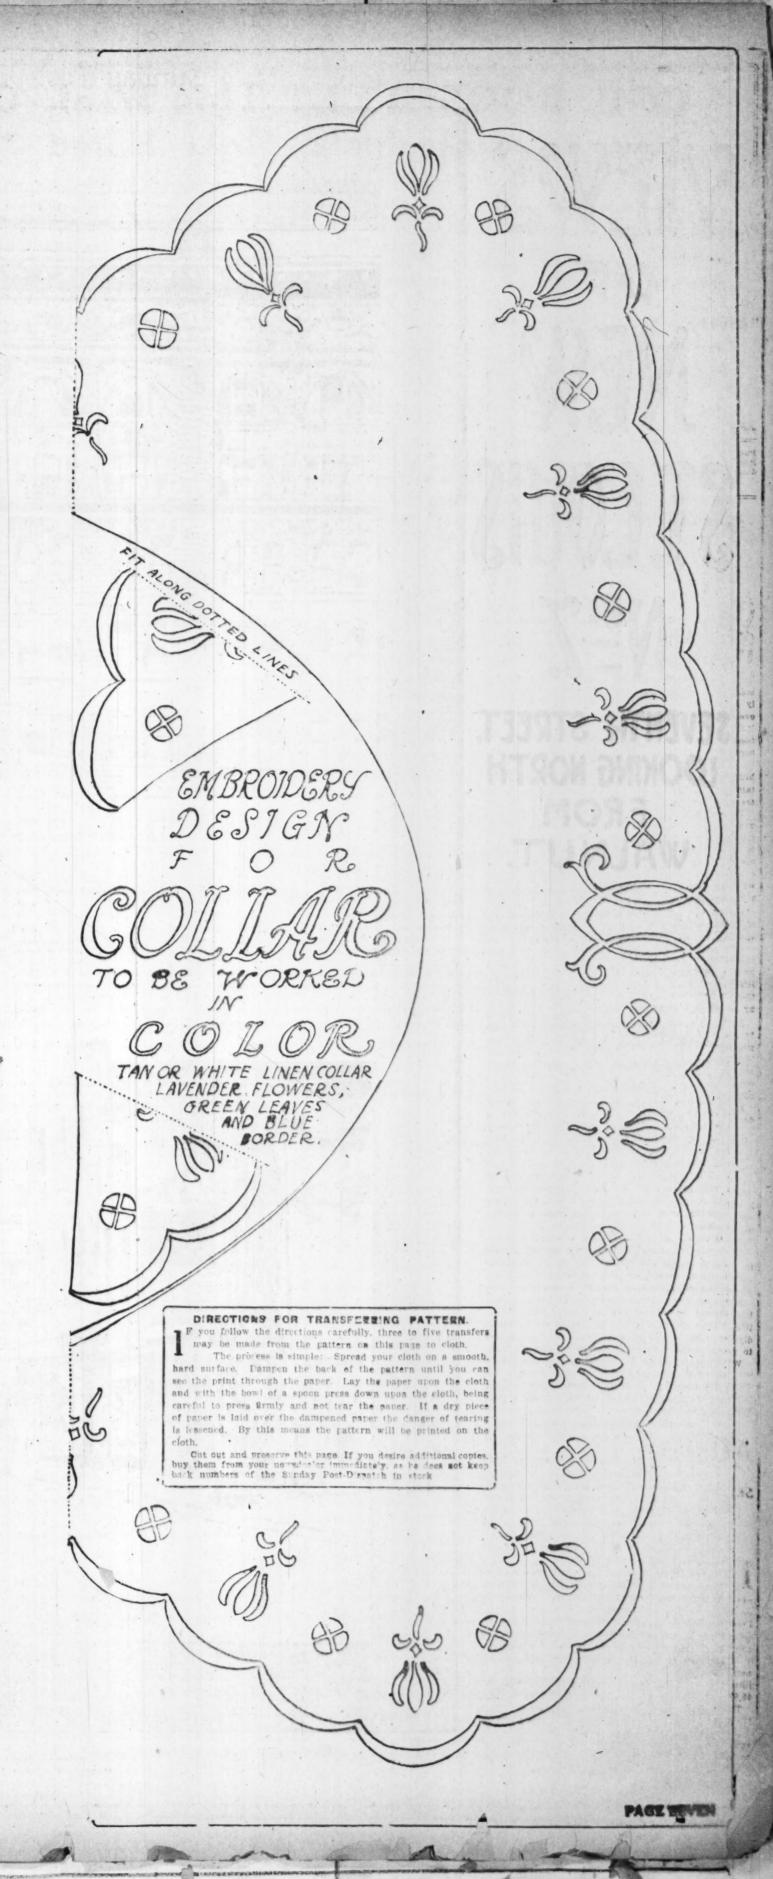

Never use crimping pins on the hair oftener than twice a week, unless the weather is damp and rainy.

VIEWS OF NEW STLOUIS NE7.

SEVENTH STREET, LOOKING NORTH FROM WALNUT.

OOKING north on Seventh street from Walnut street, along the prospect which is the subject of No. 7 of the Sunday Post-Dispatch Magazine's series, "Views of New St. Louis," the eye is able to embrace in one eloquent glance the story of the city's building evolution during the last few years. Here the old and years. Here the old and the new St. Louis appear side by side in a single flash of vision.

In the left foreground, on the west side of Seventh street, between Walnut and Market streets, stand two structures which, in comparison with the towering edifices of steel and stone about them, are like survivals from some "mound-building" age of construction. Yet it was not long ago that the entire area comprehended in this drawing was occupied with similar burrows, so to speak, given over to lodging houses, barrooms and the pathetic offices in which humanity's derelicts find their last resource as recruits of labor agencies.

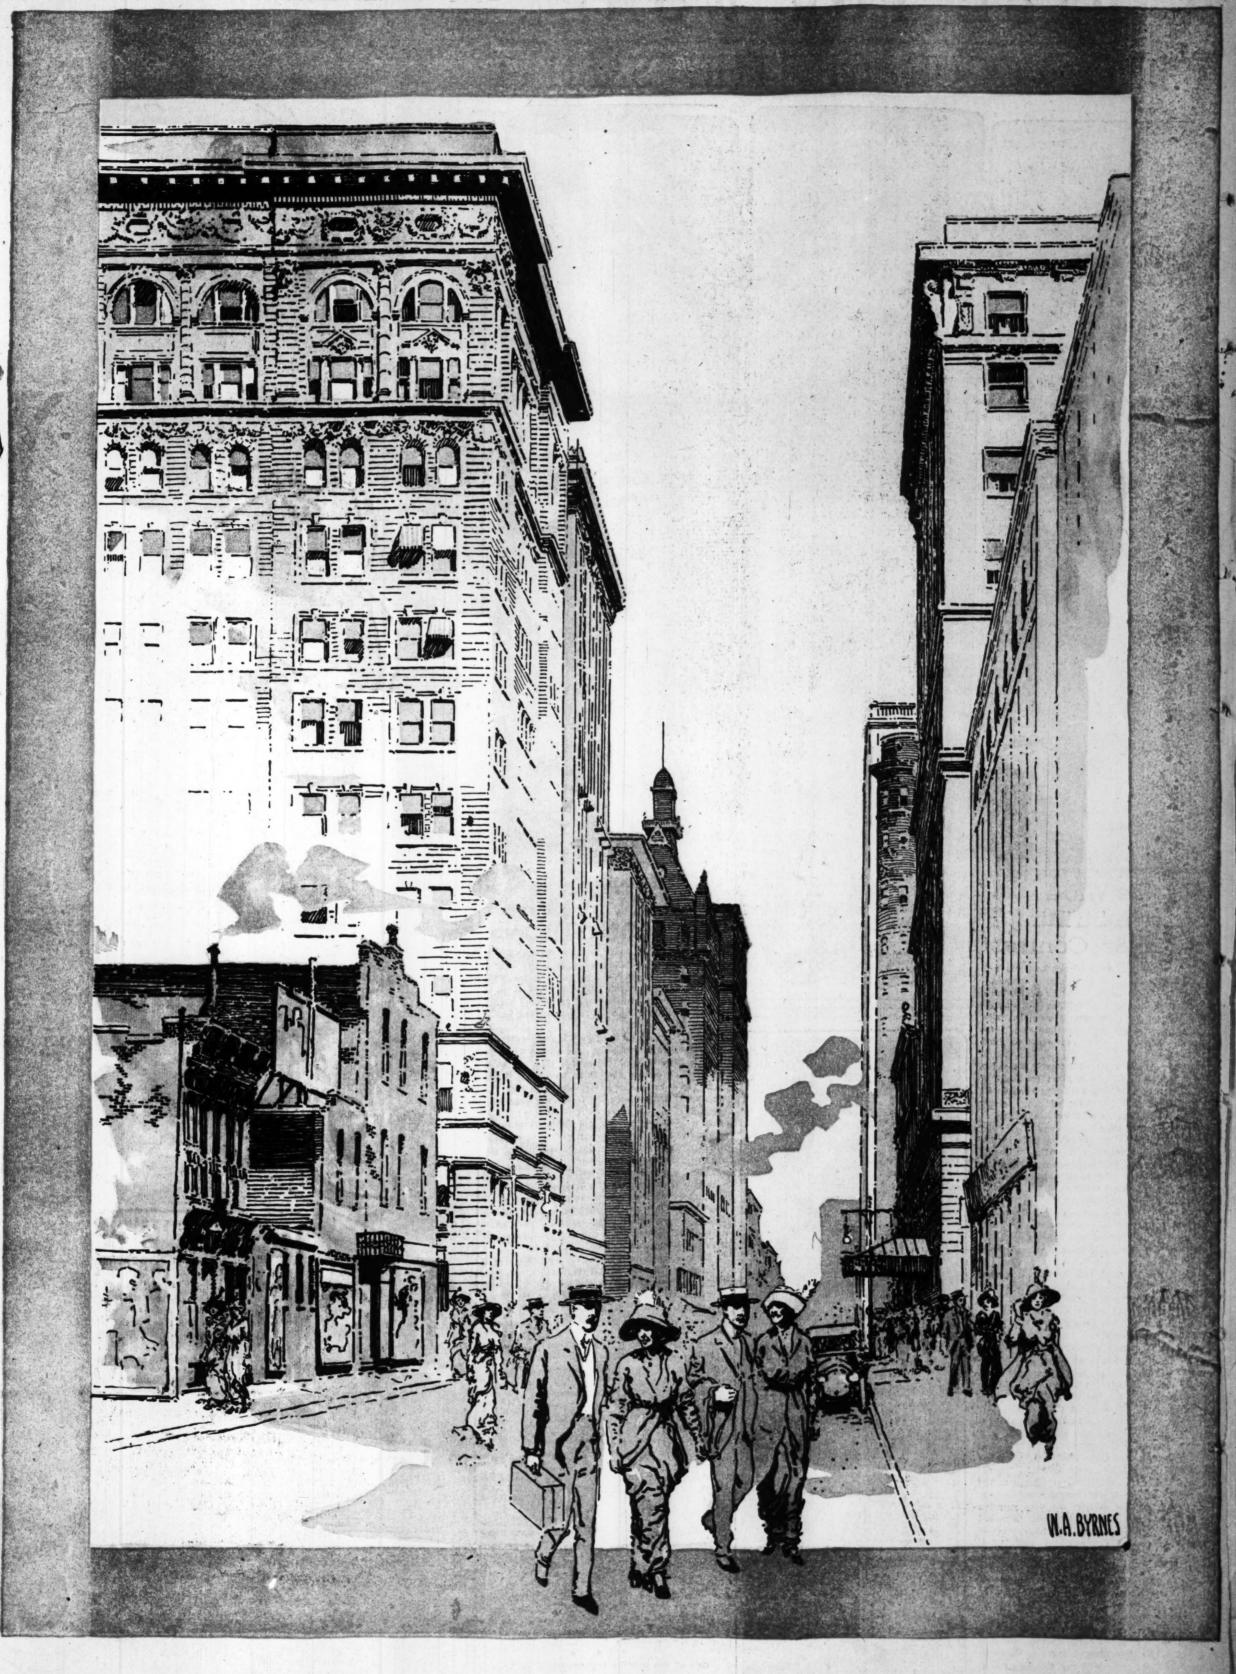

Business energy and steel construction have largely redeemed the forbidding district, thrusting it farther and farther back by the encroachment of skyscraper after skyscraper from the north, until the vista here represented has taken on no inconsiderable likeness to the canyoned streets characteristic of the modern metropolis.

How the reformation of Market street, whose ugliness, as "the gateway to St. Louis," has caused our civic improvement societies many shudders, is under progress by private no less than public enterprise, is here illustrated. The Missouri Pacific Building, at Seventh and Market streets, and the American Hotel, on the opposite corner, are worthy reinforcements of the group of municipal buildings on Market street between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets, and the Union Station at Eighteenth street.

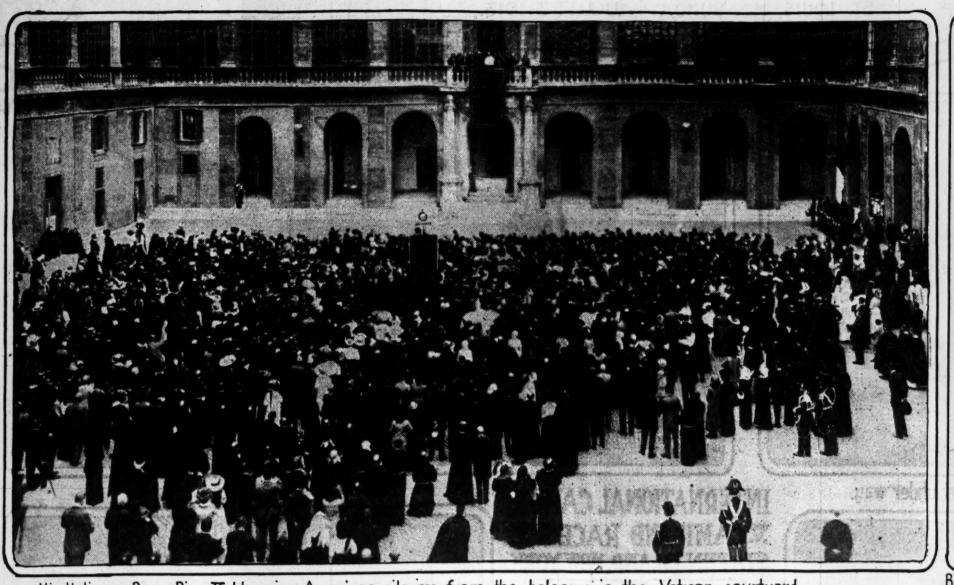

North of the Missouri Pacific Building arise in turn the Lincoln Trust, Wainwright, Holland and Central National Bank buildings. Across the street, north of the American Hotel, is the Fullerton Building, and in the right background appears the edge of the huge Barr Building, the gleaming bulk of which is the focus towards which all views of the new downtown St. Louis converge.

These great buildings and their population of thousands of busy workers form a city of their own, teeming with multifarious activity. In one edifice are housed the offices of a great Southwestern railroad system. Two others inclose the financial energies of great banks and trust companies. The rest throng with commercial enterprises, many of them with far-spreading ramifications.

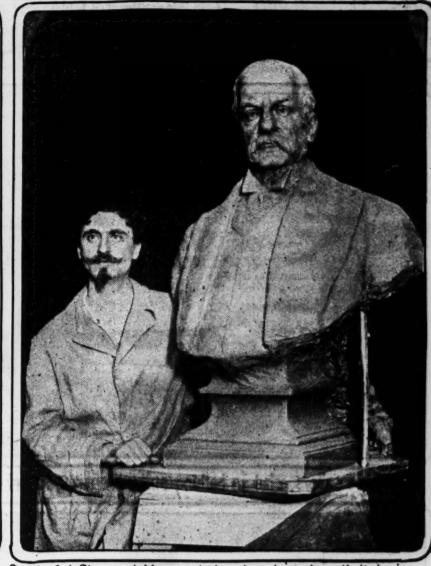

To the visitor disembarking at the Union Station and taking a car eastwards, Seventh street today presents the most impressive corridor by which the stranger may make his first entrance into St. Louis' business district.

CHAPTER I-ALLAN LUARNS FRENCH.

A LTHOUGH in my old age, Allan Quatermain, have taken to writing—after a fashion—never yet have I set down a single word of the tale of my first love and of the adventures that are grouped around her beautiful and tragic history.

What have I done, I wonder, that to me should have een decreed the love of two such women as Marie and of that Stella, also now long d.ad, to whom alone in the world I told all her tale? Indeed, during our brief married days; she thought and talked much of Marie.

So with Stella's death all that side of life came to an end for me, since during the l ng years which stretch between then and now I have never said another tender word to woman. I ad t, however, that once, I ng afterwards, a certain little witch of a Zulu did say tender words to me, and for an hour or so almost turned my head, an art in which she had great skill. Her name was Mameena, and I have set down her remarkable story elsewhere.

I passed my youth with my old father, a Church of England clergyman, in what is now the Cradock district of the Cape Colony.

Then it was a wild place enough, with a very small white population. Among our few neighbors was a Boer farmer of the name of Henri Marais, who lived ab ut fliteen miles from our station, on a fine farm called Mara stontein. His origin was Huguenot, his forefather, who was also named Henri Marais, having been one of the first of that faith who emigrated to South Africa to escape the crueities of Louis XIV at the time of the re-vocation Edict of Nantes. He had one daughter Marie, whose mother had died while she was still a little child.

One day, several years after my father had emigrated to the Cape, the Heer Marais arrived at our house in search, I think, of some lost oxen. He was then a thin, bearded man with rather wild, dark eyes set close tog ther, and a quick nervous manner, not in the least like that of a Dutch Boer—or so I recall him. My father received him courteously and asked him to stop to dine,

They talked together in French.

At length, after a pause, Mr. Marais, pointing to myself, a small and stubby-haired youth with a sharp nose, asked my father whether he would like me to be instructed in the French tongue. The answer was that nothing would please him better.

So an arrangement was made that I should go over for two days in each week to Maralsfontein, sleeping there on the intervening night, and acquire a knowledge of the French tongue from a tutor whom Mr. Marais had hired to instruct his daughter in that language and other subjects.

Thither, accordingly, I went in due course, and I was allowed to carry a gun. So to Maraisfontein I rode on the appointed day, attended by a Hottentot after-rider, a certain Hans. I enjoyed very good sport on the road, arriving at the stead laden with one pauw, two koran, and a little klipspringer buck which I had been lucky enough

There was a peach orchard round Maraisfontein which just then was a mass of lovely pink blossom, and as I rode through it slowly, not being sure of my way to the house, a lanky child appeared in front of me, clad in a frock which exactly matched the color of the peach bloom. I can see her now, her dark hair hanging down her back, and her big, shy eyes staring at me from the shadow of the Dutch ka ple which she wore.

I pulled up my pony and stared at her. "Are you the little Allan Quatermain who is coming to learn French with me?" she asked in Dutch.

"Of course, but why do you call me little, missie? I am taller than you.'

"I think not. But get off that horse, and we will meas- Marie always stayed just half an inch taller in body, Marais whom I already knew, rose from the hide-strung ure here against this wall."

CHAPTER V.-THE SHOOTING MATCH.

OW it chanced that some months before a young Englishman of good family-he was named the ball through its middle." Honorable Vavasseur Smyth-who had accompanronicate variassed smyth—who had accompanied an official relative to the Cape Colony, came our as he rammed his powder down.

Within four minutes more Pereira had fired his two that on the second bird which the Herr Pereira killed way in search of sport, of which I was able to show him a good deal of humble kind. He had brought way in search of sport, of which I was able to show him a good deal of humble kind. He had brought with him, amongst other weapons, what in those days was considered a very beautiful hair-triggered small-bore rife fitted with a nipple for percussion caps, then quite a new invention. It was by a maker of the name of J. Purdey of London, and had cost quite a large sum because of the perfection of its workmanship. When the Honorable V. Smyth—of whom I have never heard since—took his leave of us on his departure for England, being a generous-hearted y ung fellow, as a I think I shall. Hernan has killed five out of six, he pointed to the work as a triple of the second bird which the Herr Pereira killed had took low two at once.

Within four minutes more Pereira had fired his two that on the second bird which the Herr Pereira killed had took low two at once.

Rettef went and studied all the birds, taking them up one by one. Then he threw down the last with a curse and cried in a great voice:
